GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT

RESOLUTION

No. 1063/L.S.-G.1B-1/57.—2nd February 1957.—The affairs of the District Board of the 24-Parganas have been causing great concern to the State Government for some time past. A number of allegations regarding maladministration of the affairs of the District Board were received by Government from certain members of the Board and, in view of the grave nature of the allegations, Government asked their local officers to make a thorough enquiry into the affairs of the Board. The enquiry was made by the Additional District Magistrate, 24-Parganas, whose report was forwarded to Government by the Commissioner of the Presidency Division with his comments thereon. The report revealed many serious irregularities in the administration of the District Board. Some of these irregularities are at present sub judice being the subject-matter of certain applications made to the High Court. But the Additional District Magistrate's report also revealed certain other irregularities and instances of the District Board abusing and exceeding its powers. After considering the said report and the observations made thereon by the Divisional Commissioner, Government were of the view that the District Board of the 24-Parganas had not only abused and exceeded its powers but had also shown incompetence to perform the duties imposed on it by or under the law. In their order No. 8648/L.S.-G. 1B-10/55 Pt. I, dated the 11th October 1956, issued under section 131 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, 1885, they accordingly asked the District Board of the 24-Parganas to show cause why it should not be superseded on the following charges, namely:

(1) Admission of Shri P. K. Naskar, a member of the District Board and a relation of the Chairman, on the latter's own nomination to the free bed in Jadavpur T.B. Hospital maintained at the cost of the District Board.

(2) Failure to have the log book of the District Board car maintained in such a way as to show the purpose for which the car was used.

(3) Failure to prevent the First Vice-Chairman from usurping the powers of the Chairman in the matter of appointments and from making irregular appointments in contravention of the rules.

(4) Payment of an additional contribution of Rs.7,000 for good work to the District Engineer's Provident Fund by the Board even before the finalisation of the accounts of the work of repair of the Gopalpur Bridge although the Board's Executive (First Vice-Chairman) had reasons to suspect irregularities in the accounts.

(5) Favouritism shown by the Board in leasing out roadside land belonging to it to one Shri Aloke Kumar Mondal at a nominal rent of Rs.2 only per annum at the cost of the Board, minimum rental of the land being estimated to be Rs.310 per year.

(6) Favouritism shown by the Board in spending a large sum of about Rs.7,000 on the repair of a comparatively unimportant road passing by the house of Shri Gopal Chandra Naskar, a member of the Board, ignoring many other works of greater importance.

(7) Gross negligence in realising Rs.8,000 due to the Board from Shri Nirode Baran Naskar and others, lessees of Gangasagar Mela, from 1951, in spite of the comments made in the audit reports.

(The default was primarily that of the Chairman; but under section 31A of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, 1885, he exercises the powers of the Board and it was clearly the latter's duty to see that irregularity, which was pointed out in the audit notes, was rectified.)

(8) Serious irregularities in the matter of retention in service, after retirement and payment of his Provident Fund dues, of Shri Nripendra Nath Dutta, Stenographer of the Board, on the strength of an affidavit regarding the date of his birth.

(9) Abuse of power by the District Board Executive in entrusting the important and responsible duty of conducting auction sales for lease of ferries, lands, tanks, etc., to the ministerial staff, though the District Engineer or the Secretary was available for conducting such auctions.

(10) Concentration of powers in the hands of the Chairman and the First Vice-Chairman to the exclusion of the Second Vice-Chairman who has been prevented from exercising even the powers delegated to him.

(11) Depriving the Secretary of the Board of his normal and legitimate functions even after the termination of the period of his suspension.

2. Government have duly considered the replies given by the District Board of the 24-Parganas to the aforesaid charges and the observations made thereon by the Commissioner of the Presidency Division and they are satisfied that the charges against the Board have been mostly proved and that it should not be allowed to continue in office any longer in the public interest. After a very careful consideration of the whole matter, Government have come to the conclusion that the District Board of 24-Parganas has proved incompetent to perform and has made default in the performance of the duties imposed on it by or under the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, 1885, and that it has exceeded and abused its powers. In exercise of the power conferred by section 131 of the said Act, the Governor is accordingly pleased to supersede the 24-Parganas District Board for a period of two years with effect from the 4th February 1957.

3. Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor,

N. M. BARDHAN,

Joint Secretary to the Government of West Bengal.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

There are hundreds of orphanages and widows' homes in the country whose pitiable conditions of existence do not appear to have been taken into consideration in any legislation so far undertaken in any State Legislature or in Parliament.

The Bills so far introduced either in the State Legislatures or in Parliament have sought to penalise criminal activities commonly presumed to be indulged in by orphanages and widows' homes and to vest in the executive powers to deal with such activities. But very little attention has been given to the constructive side of these institutions. What are the difficulties in running an orphanage and a widows' home and how best such institutions could be helped are the needs of the time.

It must be admitted on all hands that orphanages and widows' homes are necessary for the society for diverse reasons. Besides giving protection to the unprotected and unhappy members of the society and affording an outlet for laudable charity for charitably minded persons, these institutions, if run on proper national lines, can help the building of the nation.

This Bill takes into account all the existing orphanages which are mostly run by private efforts and as communal institutions, and while it leaves them the option of giving religious instruction of any particular religion at the cost of foregoing any State-aid, it provides for orphanages and widows' homes on a national secular basis.

Thus every State in India is required to have a Board of Control for orphanages and widows' homes within the State, with the Head Office for its Chairman in the capital town of the State. This Board of Control is to be constituted by the democratic method of election of representatives from the district orphanages and widows' homes.

So far as the constructive side is concerned, no existing orphanage or widows' home is to be disturbed but only its management is sought to be regularised through a managing committee elected through an electoral college provided under the Bill.

No attention has been given so far to the difficulties and hardships experienced by those bodies which have been running these humanitarian institutions. It would be in the fitness of things after the attainment of independence by the country for the State either to take over the management of these institutions or help them to be run on democratic lines so as to afford an opportunity to the people to take lessons in the art of self-government through such institutions.

One distinguishing feature of this Bill is that while care has been taken under this Bill to provide against any criminal activities that are commonly presumed to be indulged in by orphanages and widows' homes, the fundamental humanitarian ideas of these institutions have been kept prominently in view, and instead of being penalised and asked to function with licence under police surveillance they are to be recognised like other educational institutions.

The Bill seeks to reconcile the two extreme views, one advocating the unprotected orphans and unprotected widows to be the sole responsibility of the State and the other leaving their charge to the shoulders of private bodies. Under this Bill provision has been made for three categories of orphanages and widows' homes. The first is State-managed which can be opened in that District where there is no orphanage or widows' home in existence. The second is State-aided which is supposed to be in existence through private effort but which is to be aided by the State. The third is private institutions run by religious missionaries which prefer to impart religious instruction of any particular denomination and forego State-aid. All the three classes of orphanages and widows' homes are to be under the control and discipline of the State provided under this Bill.

KAILASH BIHARI LALL.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 25 of the Bill provides for making rules by the Board of Control in respect of such things of a routine nature, as the form of application, conditions of recognition, form of returns, powers and functions of the managing committees, conduct of business of the managing committees and so on. The proposed delegation of legislative power, therefore, is of a normal character.

(1) Whether the employees are entitled to get an additional bonus for the year 1953-54.

Decision

Messrs Stewarts & Lloyds of India Ltd. (hereafter called the Company) is a Private Limited Company registered in 1937. The Company imports pipes and tubes generally from U. K. and occasionally from Australia. It has Head Office at 41 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta, a Branch Office at Himalaya House, Bombay, and erection sites at Jamshedpur, Burnpur and Madras. The Company has a fabrication shop and warehouse at 39 Hide Road, Calcutta. Main bulk of its import comes from parent Company, Messrs. Stewarts & Lloyds Ltd., Glasgow. The said parent Company has been granting to this Company from 1st April 1950 a commission of 5 per cent. on direct and 2½ per cent. on indirect business on the F. O B. value of goods supplied (vide Exts. B and B1).

The Company paid bonus for the first time in the year 1949 and thereafter paid bonus every year at the rates as below at the time of the Puja:—

1949—1/12th of the annual basic earnings, i.e., one month's basic wages.

1950—1/12th of the annual basic earnings, i.e., one month's basic wages.

1951—1/12th of the annual basic earnings, i.e., one month's basic wages.

1952—5/48th of the annual basic earnings, i.e., 38 days' basic wages.

1953—1/8th of annual basic earnings, i.e., 1½ months' basic wages.

1954—1/8th of annual basic earnings, i.e., 1½ months' basic wages.

According to the Company it earned profits in all the aforesaid years and thus paid the bonus.

Financial year of the Company is from October to September. Stewarts and Lloyds Mazdoor Sabha (hereafter called the Union) on behalf of the workmen employed at the fabrication shop and warehouse at 39 Hide Road, Calcutta, demanded 3 months' wages as bonus for the year 1953-54 to be paid on the eve of the Pujas by their letter, dated 16th August 1954. The Company, however, paid 1/8th of the annual earnings, i.e., 1½ months' basic wages as bonus for the said year ending 30th September 1954. The Union was not satisfied and had again written on 6th November 1954 to Labour Officer to request the Company to scrutinise again its trading results of the relevant year 1953-54 in order to find out whether the workmen were entitled to get additional bonus to make up 1/4th of the annual earnings as demanded earlier. As the Company did not accede to the claim for further bonus, the dispute was eventually referred to this Tribunal for adjudication under reference, dated 27th March 1956.

The workmen concerned in the dispute are, therefore, only the workmen employed in the fabrication shop and warehouse at 39 Hide Road, Calcutta. The employees in the other establishments of the Company have admittedly no dispute in the matter.

In the written statement filed before this Tribunal, Stewarts and Lloyds Mazdoor Sabha on behalf of the workmen employed in the fabrication shop and warehouse at 39 Hide Road, Calcutta, claimed additional bonus both as service condition and out of profit for the year 1953-54. During hearing the claim for bonus as service condition was abandoned and the Union restricted the claim for bonus to the one out of profit. It was alleged that there would be sufficient available surplus out of the profit for the year 1953-54 to pay even 6 months' basic wages as bonus to the workers. The Union accordingly claimed that 6 months' basic pay might be granted as additional bonus to the workmen for the year 1953-54.

The Company resisted the claim. It contended that the trading results for the year 1953-54 did not justify grant of any further bonus. It was maintained that after deduction of all prior charges and extraneous profits there would be no available surplus for distribution as bonus in addition to what had already been paid.

Exhibit A is the audited balance sheet and profit and loss account of the Company for the year ended 30th September 1954. It appears from the profit and loss account that after setting aside Rs. 1,58,895-5-9 for depreciation and Rs. 75,000 for taxation reserve, the Company had profit of Rs. 10,47,035-3-4. The Company has paid up capital of Rs. 20,000 and general reserve of 68 lakhs, a general reserve for taxation amounting to Rs. 13,66,821-8 and provision for bad and doubtful debts amounting to Rs. 37,190-8-2.

Exhibit G is Company's statement while Ext. 1 is the Union's statement showing calculation for the purpose of available surplus according to the Full Bench Formula. According to the Company's statement there would be no available surplus after deduction of prior charges and extraneous income, while according to the Union there would be sufficient available surplus for grant of 6 months' bonus as claimed.

From the calculations submitted it appears there is not much difference between the parties regarding the amount of gross profits for the year 1953-54 under consideration. According to the Company the gross profit would be Rs. 20,48,561, while according to the Union the gross profit would be Rs. 20,54,380. The increase in the Union's figure, it appears, is due to addition of Rs. 2,179 on account of loss on sale of assets and of Rs. 3,640 on account of charitable donation. I agree that the amounts spent on charity should be added to the gross profits of the year under consideration, the Company not being a charitable institution.

Regarding the other items on account of loss on sale of assets, I, however, find no justification for such addition to the gross profits. The amount of gross profits would, therefore, roughly come to Rs. 20,52,000.

The said gross profit according to the Company included total extraneous income of Rs. 7,28,060 on account of commission earned by the Company without any efforts on the part of the workmen concerned. Of the said total extraneous income the Company claimed to have earned commission of Rs. 2,74,102 on indirect indents at the rate of 2½ per cent. and of Rs. 4,53,958 on direct indents at the rate of 5 per cent. on the value of the goods supplied on the basis of agreement with the parent Company (vide Exts. B and B1). The Company urged that these extraneous profits earned by way of commission on the basis of agreements with the parent Company should be excluded from Company's income in order to determine the amount of bonus to be paid to the workmen as in the earning of these profits the workmen concerned had not contributed anything. The Union, on the other hand, contended these profits earned on account of commission, should also be available to them for the purpose of bonus.

As it does not appear that the workmen concerned, namely, those employed in the warehouse and the fabrication shop at 39 Hide Road, Calcutta, had contributed anything in the earning of these profits, I accept Company's contention for excluding the said portion of Company's income from being taken into account in determining the amount of bonus to be paid to the workmen. These commissions at the rates of 2½ per cent. and 5 per cent. respectively, on indirect and direct indents, it appears, are payable to the Company on the basis of their agreement with the parent Company at Glasgow. In case of direct indents the Company secured the orders and the parent Company shipped the goods in accordance with the customers' orders and since the business was negotiated by the Company in India at its Head Office, the parent Company paid a commission of 5 per cent. on the value of the goods supplied. The workmen concerned had, therefore, no contribution in earning the said commission. No doubt the goods after arrival in respect of direct indents were entered into the books of accounts maintained at the Head Office by the clerks of the Head Office, but the said fact, in my opinion, did not alter the position. As the workmen concerned had in any case no contribution, they cannot in fairness claim a share in the said profit. Regarding indirect indents, it appears that the parent Company received the orders directly from the customers and supplied the goods according to such orders and as the supply happened to be in the territory for which the Company is the agent, the parent Company paid a commission of 2½ per cent. In respect of earning the commission on indirect indents it is so obvious that none of the employees had any contribution whatever. So, the workmen concerned cannot have any share in the said profit. As the amount did not represent the real profit from production as such, but it represented only commission. I, agree that the entire extraneous profit of Rs. 7,28,060 earned by way of commission on the basis of the agreement with the parent Company has to be excluded from the gross profit. Thus, the gross profit for the purpose of bonus after exclusion of the amount of extraneous profit would come to Rs. 13,24,000.

Regarding the deductions on account of prior charges, the parties are agreed that a sum of Rs. 96,861 being the normal depreciation is liable to be deducted as also a sum of Rs. 1,200 being the return at the rate of 6 per cent. on the paid up capital. On the general reserve as also on taxation reserve and reserve on bad and doubtful debts the Company claimed a return at the uniform rate of 6 per cent., while the Union gave an allowance on the said reserves respectively at the rates of 4 per cent., 2 per cent. and 2 per cent. I prefer to accept Company's version so far general reserve was concerned as it appears that this represented past profits which were not distributed among the shareholders but were brought back into the business and was emloyed as working capital. Regarding return on taxation reserve and on reserve for bad and doubtful debts, I, however, accept Union's version of the rate of 2 per cent.

Regarding provision for rehabilitation, replacements, etc., the Company claimed Rs. 2,64,203 (vide Ext. G), while the Union was agreeable to allow Rs. 78,340. The Company multiplied the block value by 2.7 and sought recoupment in respect of machinery, furniture, fixtures and fittings in 15 years, while in respect of buildings in 30 years. In the absence of evidence regarding age of the machinery and buildings I find no justification for multiplying the block value by 2.7 as the Company did. In the circumstances, Union's version of the amount of Rs. 78,340 being the provision for rehabilitation is accepted.

Regarding income-tax the Company sought to deduct Rs. 9,51,753 on the basis of income-tax assessment order (Ext. B), while the Union allowed a proportionate deduction of Rs. 6,12,850 at the rate of 7 annas in the rupee on the gross profit excluding the extraneous profit of Rs. 7,28,060 shown in Table III of Ext. I. I prefer to accept Union's version as being reasonable. When the extraneous profit of Rs. 7,28,060 was excluded from the gross profit for the purpose of bonus calculation it is just and proper that income-tax on the said amount should likewise be excluded. So, to be precise, I accept the calculation more or less as shown in Table III of Ext. I as submitted by the Union. It would appear that after deductions of prior charges, there would roughly be a surplus of 2 lakhs 90 thousand.

Against the said surplus, Company had already paid a sum of Rs. 95,536 as bonus equivalent to 1½ months' basic wages to the workmen concerned as also to the employees in other establishments of the Company. The amount of available surplus would thus roughly come to 2 lakhs. Out of this the Union claimed 6 months' basic wages as bonus in addition to 1½ months' basic wages already received as such. The Company resisted the claim. It contended that no further bonus should be granted.

Regarding the quantum of bonus it has been held by the Labour Appellate Tribunal that the bonus to be distributed must bear a fair relation to bonus granted in the past. It has already been noted that in the past the highest amount paid as bonus was 1½ months' basic wages. Then again the demand upon which the reference was made, it has already been noted, was for total bonus equivalent to 3 months' basic wages including the one of 1½ months' basic wages paid as such for the year under consideration. Then out of the surplus obtained, the needs of the employees, the claims of the shareholders and requirments of the industry shall have to be considered in ascertaining what portion to be distributed as bonus. The wage scale and other advantages enjoyed have likewise to be taken into account. The Committee on profit-sharing suggested that the amount must not exceed 50 per cent. of the surplus.

Considering all this, I think it will be adequate and fair if the workmen concerned are granted additional bonus equivalent to 1½ months' basic wages for the year 1953-54. The Company is directed to pay the said additional bonus of 1½ months' basic wages to the workmen concerned within a month from the date the award becomes enforceable.

I award accordingly.

ORDER

No. 280I.R./D/13L-22/55.—24th January 1957.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2438Dis./D/13L-3/54, dated the 13th May 1954, the industrial dispute between Messrs. New Paradise Press, Baroda Type Foundry, Ashutosh Binding Works, Dev Press, A. T. Dev, Ltd., of 11, 21/1, 22/5, 23 and 25 Jhamapukur Lane, Calcutta-9, and their workmen represented by Press Employees' Association, 249B Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal an application in writing was made by Shri Rabindra Nath Mukherji, a workman of the said Messrs. Ashutosh Binding Works against the said Messrs. Ashutosh Binding Works, alleging that the said Company had punished the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, filed by Shri Rabindra Nath Mukherji, an employee of Messrs. Asutosh Binding Works (A. T. Dev, Ltd.), 9/1 Cubol Chandra Mitra Lane, Calcuta-9, residing at 51A Carpar Road, Calcutta-9, against the aforesaid Company. (Case No. 199 of 1954 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH CHANDRA SEN GUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal

For the complainant: None.

For the Company: Shri N. K. Mukherji, Advocate.

The original reference out of which this present complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act has arisen was made under Government order No. 2438Dis./D/13L-3/54, dated the 13th May 1954.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act by the employee Shri Rabindra Nath Mukherji on the allegation that his services were dispensed with during the pendency of a reference proceeding.

The employer opposite party alleged in the written statement that Shri Rabindra Nath Mukherji had committed acts of misconduct, for which he was liable to be dismissed. Charge-sheet was drawn up and served on him. An elaborate enquiry was held but final action was deferred pending permission of the Tribunal which was in seisin of the reference proceeding. The statement of the employee that he was dismissed, was stoutly denied.

At the time of hearing the applicant did not turn up. The case was accordingly heard in his absence.

The evidence given by the witness of the opposite party is to the effect that charge-sheet was drawn up against the employee on various counts and an enquiry being held, the charges were found fully established. As at that time a dispute was under adjudication, the Company made an application to the Tribunal for permission to dismiss him. This application under section 33A was made at about the same time. The reference proceeding was disposed of and an appeal was preferred by the Company against the award. The application under section 33 was struck off, as the Tribunal had become functus officio. At the appeal stage, the Company renewed its application for permission to terminate the services of Shri Rabindra Nath Mukherji on the same grounds. Exhibit A is the order made by the Appellate Tribunal under section 22 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950. The Tribunal considered the matter from all angles and being satisfied that there were just grounds for according permission, allowed the prayer of the Company. The evidence of the witness shows that on the strength of the permission thus granted, this employee has been finally dismissed. His case that he was thrown out of employment during the pendency of the reference proceeding, is anything but true. Suspension has been held in a large number of cases to be no punishment. He was not subjected to any punishment but was merely suspended in anticipation of permission. There was no contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

This application is accordingly rejected.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Kalicharan Kundu and Janaki Nath Kundu, 3/B, Bamandas Mukherjee Road, Calcutta, and their workers represented by Brass and Copper Workers' Union, 206 Cornwallis Street (Sreemani Market, Room No. 18).

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the employees: Shri Parimal Das Gupta, Vice-President, Brass and Copper Workers' Union.

For the Company: Shri Pravapada Dey and Shri Subal Chandra Kundu.

By order No. 2202Dis./D/10L-35/53, dated 17th June 1953, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, originally referred the above dispute to this Tribunal for its adjudication, when that Tribunal was presided over by Shri M. N. Gan. Shri M. N. Gan gave an award on 20th September 1953 and it was published in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, on October 24, 1953. As against this award, the Union preferred an appeal to the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal. The Labour Appellate Tribunal remanded the case to this Tribunal. At a time when the case was received on remand, this Tribunal was reconstituted with me as its presiding Judge. Accordingly, by order No. 4621Dis./D/10L-24/56, dated 26th October 1956, the Government of West Bengal referred the dispute to this Tribunal, as so reconstituted, for adjudication.

The issues contained in the schedule to the order of reference are as follows:—

(1) Whether the lock-out from 7th October 1952 is justified? To what relief the workers are entitled?

(2) What should be the rate of wages (Kasur)?

The case made out in the written statement on behalf of the workers is that they were engaged in Messrs. Kalicharan Kundu and Janakinath Kundu, a firm producing brass and copper utensils. The workers used to get two kinds of wages one named as 'Bani', that is general rate and another named as 'Kasur', that is special rate for special variety of articles produced, which required special labour and skill. Things were going on smoothly, but sometime in 1952, attempts were made to curtail the existing rate of "Kasur", for which a dispute arose, and a good deal of negotiations took place between the Union and the Brass and Copper Utensils Industries' Association. The Union demanded that the existing rate of "Kasur" should be maintained. But this firm, that is, Messrs. Kalicharan Kundu and Janaki Nath Kundu was not agreeable to this. This firm in order to force their workmen to accept lesser rate of "Kasur" declared illegal lock-out on 7th October 1952. As a result of this, the workmen were thrown out of employment, and were put to extreme distress. Conciliation proceedings followed, but without any effect. Ultimately, the dispute was referred to the Tribunal for adjudication.

The case of Messrs. Kalicharan Kundu and Janaki Nath Kundu is that it is a firm dealing in and producing brass and copper utensils. The business of such dealers is carried on not by any regular workers, but by independent contractors. The dealers supply brass, copper sheets and circles to certain independent contractors, who entered into contracts with them for converting the said brass, copper sheets and circles into finished utensils, that such independent contractors are paid for such finished goods at diverse rates on the basis of weight, that the dealers have no control over the work of such independent contractors, that there is no fixity as to the amount of work that has to be done by such contractors and also as to the time within which such work is to be executed, and that the said contractors are their own masters in respect of the work to be done by them, and they employ workmen for completing the contracts entered into by them with the dealers. The sum and substance of the case of Messrs. Kalicharan Kundu and Janaki Nath Kundu is that there was no relationship of master and servant between them and these independent contractors, who were so employed in their business. Accordingly, it is contended on behalf of the Company that the dispute referred to is not an industrial dispute, as the persons who worked in this concern were not "workmen" within the meaning of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and hence the reference as made by the Government to this Tribunal is bad in law and ultra vires, and the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to proceed with the reference or to adjudicate upon the issues in this dispute.

The principal point for decision before me is, whether the persons who were employed by this concern are really "workmen" within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. When a question arises whether the persons employed by a concern are "workmen" or independent contractors, it must be decided on a number of facts, the entire picture of their engagement, method of work, conduct during work, mode of production, in short, the whole relationship between the employer and the employees will have to be examined carefully. The fact that the order of reference as made by the Government to the Tribunal is not conclusive on the point that the reference arises out of an industrial dispute under the Act. It is now well settled by a series of decisions that the Tribunal is not only competent, but is required to see that it has jurisdiction to entertain the dispute referred to for its adjudication. It would be certainly open to a party to show that what was referred to by Government, was not an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k) of the Act, and therefore the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to make the award. Once the reference is made, it is for the Tribunal to consider the matter on merits. There is nothing in the Act, which empowers the Government to make a decision affecting the merits of an industrial dispute. The Government is only concerned with deciding, whether in the circumstances of the particular case, the dispute should be referred to an Industrial Tribunal.

Now let me turn to the objection as raised on behalf of Messrs. Kalicharan Kundu and Janaki Nath Kundu. As this objection touches the jurisdiction of the Tribunal, it is incumbent upon it to see for itself whether such objection is valid in law, or has any force. From the evidence of Shri Subal Chandra Kundu (O.P.W. 1), who was one of the partners of this firm, it has transpired that the persons who worked in this firm were not their employees, but they were independent contractors. The firm supplied them with raw materials, such as brass sheets and copper circles, and they gave the finished products. He has deposed on oath that they had no control over their attendance or over their work, and that they were paid scheduled rates according to the weight of the finished products. There was also no fixity of time for their work. The helpers who used to help these persons in preparing and polishing the finished products, were not paid by this firm. O.P.W. 2—Shri Pravapada Dey is a partner of Messrs. Shashi Bhusan Dey and Pravapada Dey. This firm like Messrs. Kalicharan Kundu and Janaki Nath Kundu manufactures also brass and copper utensils. He has deposed that their work is done by independent contractors, who are supplied with raw materials, and that these contractors after they give finished products are paid according to the scheduled rates. He has clearly stated that they have no control either over their attendance or over their work. As against this, the Union has also examined 3 witnesses—two of them worked in this particular firm, and another, Shri Bholanath Das, Secretary of Brass and Copper Workers' Union, who works in Messrs. Ram Krishna Das, a firm which also manufactures brass and copper utensils. These three witnesses have stated no doubt that the workers employed in such industries have fixed working hours, that is, from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the place of business with an interval of 2 hours as recess and enjoy festival holidays, and that they are to apply for leave if they are to remain absent, and are also punished when they remain absent without any previous permission. But P.W. 1—Shri Bholanath Das—was constrained to admit in his cross-examination that the workers were paid wages according to the volume of work done by them. and that the Karikars gave wages to the boy helpers. He has further admitted that such wages were not paid by the Maliks. It has also transpired from his cross-examination although the Karikars get leave on Sundays and also on festival occasions, they do not get any wages or pay for those days. He has furthermore admitted that no attendance register is kept in the place of business of such industry. P.W. 2—Shri Sudha Krishna Barman was constrained to admit in his cross-examination that he ceased to work in this Company and had left because of his illness, but he did not apply for leave while he had gone away. This indicates that there was no system of taking any leave as deposed to by P.W. 1—Shri Bholanath Das in his evidence. P.W. 2 has further admitted that in this Company there was no system of sending any leave application. This completely demolishes the version of P.W. 1—Shri Bholanath Das that the workers were required to put in application in writing whenever they were to take leave. There is nothing to show that the workers, who were negligent or used to remain absent without intimation, were ever punished. Not a single instance has been proved as to this. P.W. 3—Shri Madhusudan Bairagya is the son of Shri Satya Charan Bairagya, who used to work in this concern. Although he denied that he was the helper of his father, Shri Satya Charan Bairagya, he had to admit in his evidence that his wages were drawn by his father. This indicates that he was the helper of his father, and that he did not get separate wages from this concern for the work done by him. On a careful and anxious consideration of the matter, I am not prepared to put any reliance on the evidence of P.Ws. 1, 2 and 3 that the persons working in this concern had any fixed working hours, that the proprietors had any control over their work and attendance and that they were ever punished for late attendance or for absence without any permission. If such persons were allowed leave on Sundays and other festival occasions, that would not make them employees of this concern. It appears from the evidence that when these persons were allowed such leave or were not allowed to work, they were not paid anything. It practically amounts to this that when the place of business of this concern remained closed, they were not allowed to work. The very fact that no attendance register was maintained indicates that laxity in their attendance was allowed. There is no evidence that there was any interference or direction by the Management in the process of carrying out of the work by these persons. It further appears from the material placed before the Tribunal that payments to these persons were made generally at the end of the week, and such payments were made as per scheduled rates and according to the weight of the finished products. Exhibits A, A(1), B, B(1), B(2) and 6 go to show that the accounts of the persons working in this industry were maintained showing separate earnings, and that payments were made each week, and with regard to the amount of remuneration for the work done, the Company paid according to the scheduled rates. In my view, O.P.W. 1—Shri Subal Chandra Kundu, who is one of the partners of this firm and O.P.W. 2—Shri Pravapada Dey, who is a partner of Messrs. Shashi Bhusan Dey, have given the true picture of the system of work prevalent in this concern. Their evidence bears the stamp of truth, and as such I am prepared to accept the same, in preference to what has been stated by P.Ws. 1, 2 and 3.

So, on a consideration of the matter, I come to the conclusion that the persons, who worked in this concern, were independent contractors and not servants of the Company. Some of these workers no doubt worked in the place of business of the concern, but there were also persons, who worked at places where they liked. Those persons, who were required to attend in the place of business of this concern, were not obliged to adhere to strict timing with regard to their arrival or departure. They were not paid when they were not at work. Their remuneration was the sum total of the amounts provided or contracted to by this concern for different works they did during the week. A record was kept of the work done and the amount to be paid for the work done. There were no leave or other rules or retiring benefits for them. They were never paid when not at work. They were at liberty to employ helpers. Not one instance has been cited, when they were rebuked or punished for absence or late arrival or for going away without permission. The evidence as furnished on behalf of the Company establishes that the Management had very little control over the work of these persons, who had more independence than control in the execution of work. My view is that no power or command or control was reserved for the Company, so far as the work of these persons was concerned. The persons working in this concern were independent contractors, and not employees. So they cannot be held to be "workmen" within the meaning of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. That being the position, they are not entitled to any relief or any award in their favour The dispute between them and the Company referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, cannot accordingly be held to be an "industrial dispute," and the Tribunal has therefore no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon it, despite the reference made by the Government.

In view of what I have stated above, it is unnecessary for me to enter into the merits of the issues, and accordingly I should refrain from recording my views thereon.

Before I part with the case, I may place on record that there has been a development, in so far as the business of this Company has been closed down after the reference was made. It appears that the business of this firm, which was a joint family business, ceased to exist with effect from 12th March 1954, as a result of partition amongst the partners who belonged to a joint Hindu Family. But the fact remains that the said business was in existence and continuing at the time when the dispute was first referred to this Tribunal for its adjudication. As the dispute arose at a time when the business was being carried on, it could very well form the subject matter of reference. In this view of the matter, this Tribunal proceeded to take up this case, in spite of objection raised on behalf of the Company. The Tribunal by its Order No. 24, dated 5th January 1957, overruled that objection. In view of the total closure of the business, no decision regarding Issue No. 2 as mentioned in the schedule to the order of reference, is required. The question of lock-out as in Issue No. 1 cannot be gone into, as the persons working in this concern have been held to be independent contractors.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Bharat Carbon and Ribbon Mfg. Co., Ltd., 543 Basantalal Saha Road, Tollygunj, Calcutta, and two of their employees, Shri J. N. Mondal, 20 Nabin Banerji Lane, P.O. Santragachi, Howrah, and Shri K. P. Chatterji, village Cayeshpur, P. O. Cobardanga, 24-Parganas, referred under C.O. No. 5203-I.R., dated 5th December 1956. (Case No. VIII-37 of 1956.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. N. GAN, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the workmen: Shri Nepal Chandra Chakraborty.

For the Company: Mr. V. K. Batra, Managing Agents.

AWARD

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Bharat Carbon and Ribbon Mfg. Co., Ltd., Calcutta, and two of their employees, Shri J. N. Mondal and Shri K. P. Chatterji, over payment of compensation for retrenchment from service was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication under Labour Department order No. 5203-I.R./D/11L-78/55, dated 5th December 1956.

The issue is:

(i) To what compensation are Shri J. N. Mondal and Shri K. P. Chatterji entitled to for their retrenchment?

Both parties adopted the writtten statements already filed in the case. No oral evidence is adduced by either party.

Shri J. N. Mondal: He was retrenched on 26th May 1954 and was reappointed on 28th February 1956. He has been working in the same post previously held by him before retrenchment. He is the Foreman-in-Charge of maintenance in the factory. At the hearing, Mr. V. K. Batra, Managing Agent, conceded that in the case of Shri Mondal the continuity of his service under the Company would be maintained in spite of short break due to retrenchment. He is, however, unwilling to concede the other demands on the ground that Shri Mondal, being a Foreman-in-Charge is not a workman under the Industrial Disputes Act and, as such, he is not entitled to the benefits under the Act. Shri Chakraborty, on behalf of the employee concerned, contends that Shri Mondal is a workman under the Act and therefore he would have his other demands settled here and now. Shri Mondal is still continuing in his service under this Company, and in the interest of good relations between Shri Mondal and the Management, he thinks it is desirable to leave the settlement of other demands to the Management, and not press for an award in this case. His case is, accordingly, disposed of with the remark that there is continuity in his service and that there is no further dispute outstanding now to be settled here.

Shri K. P. Chatterji: He was retrenched on 22nd July 1954. He was not paid any compensation on retrenchment including notice pay. The Company in paragraph 3 of its written statement admitted his claim for compensation to the extent of Rs. 486. This amount has not been paid and Shri Chatterji is entitled to it.

The only point in dispute between the parties is over the payment of notice pay in lieu of notice. In his written statement, Shri Chatterji stated that he was not given one month's notice of termination of service and, as such, he is entitled to Rs. 108 in lieu of it. His monthly salary was

Rs. 108. It, however, appears from his letter of demand, dated the 5th August 1954, that a notice of one month of termination of service was given, but that it was allowed to run concurrently with the privilege leave of 90 days. It is, therefore, established that a notice of termination of service was given in this case. Shri Chatterji's contention is that he would not get the full benefit of the privilege leave he had earned during service, if the notice of termination of service is allowed to run concurrently with the same. Shri Chakraborty, on behalf of Shri Chatterji, contends that, in this case, Shri Chatterji is entitled to one month's pay in lieu of notice, as virtually he did not get any benefit of the statutory notice by the action of the Management in making the notice period run concurrently with that of the privilege leave. Mr. Batra defended the action of the Management mainly relying on the provisions of section 25(F) of the Industrial Disputes Act. He, however, states that he is not clear in his mind regarding legal position on this point. I have carefully considered the arguments of both sides. The underlying idea in giving a notice to an employee before terminating his service is to forewarn him against an unexpected event so that he might get himself prepared to face any eventuality without much difficulty. At the same time, he derives the benefit of an extension of service by one month. If the employer wants to dispense with his services forthwith, he is required under the law to pay him one month's pay in lieu of notice. If he does not do that the employee concerned gets one month's pay all the same by remaining in the service for one month. In this instant case, the employee did not get the benefit of notice, under the Act, to which he was otherwise entitled, because he received the notice while on leave which had already accrued to him in course of his service before his retrenchment. Question, therefore, is whether leave and notice to terminate service, on retrenchment, can run together, particularly where it results in pecuniary loss to the retrenched employee.

Fundamental concepts of both leave and notice to terminate service are different, and, accordingly, they can not do so, for obvious reasons, even where the periods of leave and notice are equal and identically the same.

Leave on pay, is a benefit, which accrue to an employee under the Service Rules and is earned by him in service. It is enjoyed whenever convenient and necessary. Its value, on termination of service, is only measured in terms of money. It has no other use. Similarly, a notice under section 25(F), confers on him a pecuniary benefit which is available only at the time of termination of service.

Notice of terminate of service operate on the expiry of its period whereas an employee, to all intents and purposes continues in service during the whole period of his leave. This is one of the reasons why both should not run together.

In my opinion, the period of notice in the present case should be treated as commencing after the expiry of the privilege leave. To hold otherwise would be to deny the benefits of the Act to the employee concerned. Shri Chatterjee is, therefore, entitled to one month's pay of Rs. 108 only in lieu of notice under section 25(F) of the Industrial Disputes Act. In all, he is entitled to Rs. 594 only from the Company. The Company must pay this amount to him within one month from the date of the publication of the award.

NOTIFICATION

24-Parganas.—No. P.H./4778/2R-30/56.—21st December 1956.—Whereas the members of the Baranagar-Kamarhati Joint Water Supply Committee which was constituted under section 87 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), for the purpose of management of the Joint Water-works of the Baranagar and Kamarhati Municipalities, in the district of 24-Parganas, have made the following rules under sub-section (1) of section 69 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), and have applied to the State Government for confirmation of the said rules under section 506 of the said Act;

And whereas—

(a) notice of the intention to apply for such confirmation of the said rules has been duly given one month before the making of the application for confirmation, as required under clause (i) of sub-section (2) of section 506 of the said Act, and

(b) for one month before the making of the application, a copy of the said rules has been kept at the office of the Baranagar-Kamarhati Joint Water Supply Committee and has been open during office hours thereat to the inspection of the inhabitants of the Baranagar and Kamarhati Municipalities, without fee, as required by clause (ii) of sub-section (2) of section 506 of the said Act;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 506 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), the Governor is pleased to confirm the following rules, namely:—

1. These rules may be called the Baranagar-Kamarhati Joint Water Supply Committee Provident Fund Rules.

2. In the following rules—

(a) "salary" means monthly substantive salary or any allowance drawn during leave of any kind, and includes acting, charge, personal or deputation allowance, if any, but does not include local or travelling allowance;

(b) "servant" includes every non-pensionable employee holding a substantive appointment under the Baranagar-Kamarhati Joint Water Supply Committee (hereinafter referred to as the Joint Water Supply Committee), but excludes those who are or may in future be treated by the State Government as non-pensionable, if in the State Government service:

Provided that—

(i) the persons to whom the existing pension and gratuity rules issued under the Government of Bengal, circular No. 16L.S.-G., dated the 19th March 1903, are applicable, may, in lieu of enjoying the benefits of those rules, elect to come under these rules at their option. The option once exerised shall be final;

(ii) all officers in temporary service shall, with the consent of the Joint Water Supply Committee embodied in a formal resolution at a meeting, be eligible to subscribe to the fund, if they have been employed, or, in the opinion of the Joint Water Supply Committee, are likely to be employed, for at least three years;

(iii) persons appointed on probation to substantive appointments or appointed to officiate in an office which is vacant, or the permanent incumbent of which does not draw any part of the pay or count service, may, if they are confirmed without interruption, be allowed to join the Provident Fund with retrospective effect from the date of their joining the service. The monthly subscription to the fund shall not, in such a case be less than 10 per cent. on the salary of the officer till all arrear subscriptions are paid up;

(iv) a servant, while on temporary transfer to service under some other local fund or Government, may also subscribe to the Provident Fund;

(c) "depositor" means a servant on whose behalf a deposit is made under these rules;

(d) "interest" means the interest which is paid on a deposit at a Government Savings Bank under the rules in force for such institution, and includes that allowed on Government and other securities;

(e) "due notice of resignation of appointment" means—

(i) in the case of servants drawing salary of two hundred rupees or above per month, three months; and

(ii) in the case of all other servants, one month.

3. Rate and realization of subscriptions.—(1) Every servant shall be required to subscribe at the rate of 6¼ per cent. or 1 anna in the rupee on his salary to a Provident Fund, of which an account shall be opened at the Post Office Savings Bank. This deduction shall be made by the Joint Water Supply Committee upon every salary bill presented, and the net salary only shall be paid to the servant. In making this deduction fractions of a rupee of salary shall be omitted. The subscription of a servant, while on temporary transfer to service under some other Local Fund or Government shall be calculated on his assumed pay [articles 767 and 768, Civil Service Regulations, Fifth Edition (Reprint)] and it shall be the duty of the servant on transfer to remit the subscription to his original employer for credit to the Provident Fund.

(2) A servant who desires to subscribe during leave must notify his intention beforehand, in order to allow of the deductions from his leave allowances being noted in his leave and pay certificate. He shall not be permitted to discontinue subscribing during leave.

(3) A servant who fails to notify his intention to continue to subscribe, when proceeding on leave, may subsequently pay his subscription in cash.

4. Prohibition of voluntary deposits.—No voluntary deposits from servants shall be credited to the Provident Fund.

5. Subscription during leave and suspension.—(1) Subscriptions on leave of any kind shall be optional. They shall be calculated on the allowances admissible during leave.

(2) A servant on reinstatement, after a period passed under suspension, may be allowed the option of subscribing for that period. In the case of a servant who exercises the option of subscribing to the Fund during leave without allowances, or on reinstatement after a period passed under suspension without allowances, it is left to the discretion of the President of the Joint Water Supply Committee to determine in each case, the amount on which subscription shall be paid, the general principle to be observed being that the subscription shall be calculated on half the salary last drawn by the servant before he proceeded on leave without allowances, or was placed under suspension without allowances.

6. Contribution by the Joint Water Supply Committee to deposit account of each servant.—(1) It shall be competent to the Joint Water Supply Committee to make contribution to the deposit account of each servant equal to, but not exceeding, the deduction/one-half on the deduction made from his salary under rule 3: provided that if the total of the contribution shown in the bill on which a remittance is made to the Savings Bank contains a fraction of a rupee, it shall be increased to the next highest rupee by an addition to the bill of the difference between this fraction and unity. These provisional increases in the contribution shall be shown in the abstract of balances until adjusted at the close of the year (see rules 21 and 22 below), but they shall not appear in the depositor's ledger accounts.

(2) No contribution shall be made by the Joint Water Supply Committee on the subscription paid by the depositor for any period during which he had been on suspension as a penalty for misconduct or other offences.

(3) It shall be optional with the Joint Water Supply Committee to contribute for an employee while on temporary transfer to service under some other Local Fund or Government.

7. Additional contribution.—(1) When any servant retires or dies who has subscribed to the Provident Fund and has for not less than 15 years, rendered continuous good service, the Joint Water Supply Committee may grant to him or to his estate from the Joint Water Supply Committee fund an additional contribution which shall, if the finances of the Joint Water Supply Committee permit, be calculated at the rate of half a month's pay for each complete year of service rendered by him, subject to a maximum of 15 months' pay:

Provided that the Joint Water Supply Committee Members at a meeting shall be competent to pay the additional contribution with the sanction of Government if the period of service of an employee falls short of 15 years by not more than one year.

(2) If such servant dies before retirement or after retirement but before receiving the contribution, the contribution shall be paid in the manner laid down in rule 17.

(3) For the purpose of this rule—

(a) "retirement" means retirement—

(i) on attaining the age of 55 years,

(ii) at a later age, if an extension of service has been duly sanctioned, and

(iii) at an earlier age, on account of physical unfitness, illness, abolition of an appointment or any other reason considered adequate by the Joint Water Supply Committee; provided that if the retirement be voluntary retirement or resignation, it must be with the consent and approval of the authority empowered to appoint the servant;

(b) "continuous service" includes any authorised leave of absence whether with or without allowances and any overstayal of leave that was condoned at the time by the Joint Water Supply Committee;

(c) "pay" means substantive pay (i.e., the pay other than special pay, personal pay or other emoluments classed as pay), to which an employee is entitled on account of a post to which he has been appointed substantively, or by reason of his substantive position in a cadre;

(d) When the complete years of service rendered are being calculated, periods spent on leave other than privilege leave or leave on full average pay shall be excluded.

(4) An additional contribution cannot be claimed by any subscriber to the provident fund as a matter of right. It shall be granted at the discretion of the Joint Water Supply Committee only to those subscribers whom they consider deserving.

8. Investment.—The deductions under rule 3 and the contributions under rule 6 shall be paid to the Post Master for credit to the account of the Provident Fund in the Savings Bank. The payment of the deduction shall be debited in the accounts to the same head as the salary, and the contributions shall be charged to the service head "Miscellaneous", sub-head "Provident Fund Contributions". The remittances to the Savings Bank shall, whenever possible be made between the 1st and 4th day of each month in order that interest may accrue for the month of deposit.

9. (1) Deposits on account of the Provident Fund of the Local Fund employees may be made under rule 44(c) of the Savings Bank Rules (see Post and Telegraph Guide, Part I, June 1952); the usual limitations of the total amount at credit of each account do not apply to such deposits [rule 44(g)]. When the investment of any portion of the amount of the balance at credit of the account is found desirable, the amount shall, on application by the President of the Joint Water Supply Committee be withdrawn, and the investment shall be made, either through the Postal authorities or through other agencies, as may be deemed convenient by the President of the Joint Water Supply Committee, in Government loans, Municipal Debentures or Port Trust Bonds of Calcutta, Bombay or Madras or in fixed deposit in the State Bank of India or in a Co-operative Bank specially approved for the purpose by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies: provided that in case of investment in a Co-operative Bank at least three-fourths of the subscribers are in favour of such investment.

(2) The interest shall be drawn by the Post Office in the case of investment through postal authorities, or by the President of the Joint Water Supply Committee in case of investment through other agencies, and credited in the Savings Bank Account.

(3) The actual cost of purchase of such securities or the amount of such fixed deposits shall be added to the balance in the Savings Bank to obtain the total balance of the Provident Fund ledger. When any such securities are sold or any loss of such fixed deposits is caused by the failure of the Bank in which such deposits are made, the net gain or loss shall be added to or deducted from the net excess interest calculated for that year [see rule 22(1)] before apportioning such interest among the depositors as set forth in that rule.

10. Advances for special purposes.—(1) No final withdrawal shall be allowed until the depositor quits the service or dies, but when the pecuniary circumstances of a depositor are such that the indulgence is absolutely necessary, a temporary advance may be allowed from the sum at his credit with the sanction of the President of the Joint Water Supply Committee when the depositer draws a salary below Rs. 50 and that of the Members of the Joint Water Supply Committee at a meeting when his salary is Rs. 50 or over. Such an advance shall not exceed the amount subscribed by the depositor, except in special cases, e.g., when the necessity for the advance is great and the sum subscribed by him is insufficient for the expenses to be incurred.

(2) The following are examples of occasions on which the grant of advances may be considered, provided the circumstances are exceptional:—

(a) to pay expenses incurred in connection with the illness of a depositor or any of his dependants;

(b) to pay for the passage of any dependant of a depositor coming from beyond the sea to join him, or requiring to make a journey beyond the sea for some urgent cause; and

(c) to pay expenses in connection with marriages, funerals or ceremonies which by the religion of the depositor it is incumbent upon him to perform, and in connection with which it is obligatory, that expenditure should be incurred.

Note.—Advances, though not confined rigidly to the objects laid down in clause (a) to (c) above, shall be made with due regard to the principle expressed in clause (1) of this rule as illustrated by the foregoing examples. The order sanctioning the advance shall state the specific purpose for which the advance is granted.

(3) Advances shall be recovered at the discretion of the authority sanctioning them, in not less than 12 instalments or more than 24. A depositor may, however, at his option make repayment in less than 12 instalments or may repay two or more instalments at the same time. Recoveries shall commence from the first payment of the full month's salary after the advance is granted, or (in the case of advances to an officer going on leave) after the officer's return from leave. The instalments shall be paid by compulsory deduction from salary, and shall be in addition to the usual subscription:

Provided that if in the opinion of the President of the Joint Water Supply Committee, the recovery of an ordinary advance in 24 instalments is likely to cause excessive hardship, recovery may be made in not more than 36 instalments with the sanction of the District Magistrate.

(4) When an advance is paid to a depositor in excess of the amount shown against him in column 9 of the Provident Fund ledger (a portion of his sum having been invested in postal cash certificates), a minus balance shall be shown in red ink in column 9 till it is wiped off by subsequent payment of subscription, contribution, etc., and similarly a minus entry in red ink shall be made in column 12 of the ledger for interest at 2½ per cent. or at such rate as may be allowed at the time by the Post Office Savings Bank on the debit balance in column 9. If, however, the advance is to be paid by the sale of a portion of the investment either in Government promissory notes, war bonds or postal cash certificates, etc., the loss, if any, by this sale shall be recovered from the depositor taking the advance.

(5) When an advance is repayable as regards principal in not more than 12 instalments an additional instalment representing interest and equivalent to 3 per cent. of the total amount of the advance shall be paid in the month following that in which the last instalment is paid. Similarly, two additional instalments representing interest each equivalent to 3 per cent. of the total amount of the advance shall be paid when the advance is repayable in more than 12 instalments. In either case, the instalment of interest, when realized, shall be credited to the account of the depositor himself.

11. In the following cases a depositor may be permitted to withdraw the deposits up to 90 per cent. of his own subscription with interest at his credit before the actual date of his retirement on the conditions laid down against each:—

(i) a subscriber proceeding on leave preparatory to retirement, at any time between the date of his proceeding on leave and the date of retirement, subject, however, to the condition that he will be required, should he return to duty at the end of his leave, to repay to the Fund in one or more instalments the whole amount withdrawn by him with interest thereon, unless his active service actually terminates within six months.

(ii) a subscriber who produces a medical certificate of incapacity for further service, at any time between the date of his producing such certificate and the date of retirement.

In both the cases referred to above the previous sanction of the Joint Water Supply Committee Members at a meeting shall be obtained and no refund shall be made until the President after due enquiry certifies that no dues are outstanding against the depositor.

12. Withdrawals on retirement.—(1) When a depositor in permanent employ ceases to be a servant of the Joint Water Supply Committee by resignation, retirement, reduction of establishment, or by permanent transfer to service under some other local fund or to Government service, the Joint Water Supply Committee at a meeting shall cause the amount standing to his credit (i.e., the deposits and contributions with interest thereon) to be withdrawn, and subject to rule 19, to be handed over to him.

(2) A depositor holding a temporary appointment may, subject to the same conditions, either withdraw the amount on the termination of his appointment or leave it in the Fund to be withdrawn at the time he finally quits the service.

(3) If in the opinion of the President of the Joint Water Supply Committee the withdrawal of interest from the Savings Bank would unduly trench upon the deposits at credit of the other depositors, the interest shall not be paid at once from the Provident Fund, but be temporarily advanced from the funds of the Joint Water Supply Committee. The advance shall be adjusted when the difference between the total of the ledger balances and the balance of the Provident Fund in the Pass Book may be withdrawn from the Savings Bank under rule 22.

(4) In the case of final withdrawal of the entire balance standing to the credit of a depositor on retirement or otherwise, the fraction of a rupee, if any, may be advanced temporarily from the funds of the Joint Water Supply Committee. The advance shall be adjusted when the difference between the total of the ledger balance and the balance of the Provident Fund in the Pass Book may be withdrawn from the Savings Bank under rule 22.

13. Disposal on depositor's death.—Each depositor shall, as soon after he joins the Fund as possible, be called upon by the President of the Joint Water Supply Committee to furnish a declaration as nearly as may be in the "Form of Declaration" appended to these rules showing how he wishes the amount of his accumulations to be disposed of on his death.

14. An adopted child shall be considered to be a child for the purpose of these rules when, under the personal law of the depositor, adoption is legally recognised as conferring the status of a natural child, but in this case only. If doubts arise in an individual case, the Joint Water Supply Committee shall take the opinion of the Legal Remembrancer through the District Officer and his opinion shall be final for the purposes of these rules. A declaration in favour of an adopted child is made at the depositor's risk and can be challenged at any time.

15. A depositor may in his declaration provide for the distribution of a portion only of the amount. Thus the Form of Declaration may mention a specific sum or a specific proportion of the total amount. The disposal of the balance shall be governed by rule 17.

Any Form of Declaration submitted by a depositor is revocable at any time and from time to time. A fresh declaration shall, subject to rule 16, be operative only on being received by the President of the Joint Water Supply Committee. On a depositor's marriage, or re-marriage, any declaration already submitted by him shall forthwith become null and void and, unless a revised Form of Declaration is received, the amount of his accumulations shall be dealt with under rule 17.

If minors are nominated in a Form of Declaration, the person or persons to whom sums intended for their benefit are to be paid, shall be stated in the Form of Declaration.

16. In the event of the depositor having a dependant, he is not permitted in his Form of Declaration to leave the amount of his accumulations or any part of it to any one who is not his dependant. Where a Form of Declaration purports to leave money otherwise than to a depositor's dependant, the President of the Joint Water Supply Committee shall call upon the depositor to state whether he has a dependant, and if it is found that he has one, the Form of Declaration shall not be accepted. A depositor who has dependants has absolute discretion regarding the distribution of the amount at his credit at the time of his death among those dependants. He may exclude any one or more of them in favour of another or others of them and the manner in which the distribution is to be made among them is also within his absolute discretion.

17. The disposal of the balance at credit of deceased depositors is regulated by section 4(1) of the Provident Funds Act, 1925 (XIX of 1925).

18. The Joint Water Supply Committee shall not be bound by, or recognise, any assignment of encumbrance executed or attempted to be created which affects the disposal of the accumulations of a depositor who dies before retirement.

19. Withdrawal of contribution and deduction from deposit.—If a servant is dismissed, or removed, or called upon to resign on account of misconduct, or inefficiency or resigns without due notice, or is made liable for any losses, damages, costs and expenses which the Joint Water Supply Committee may at any time pay, sustain or be put to by reason of any act of embezzlement or default of or by such servant, the Joint Water Supply Committee may, with the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division, withhold all or any part of the contribution allotted to him with the interest accrued thereon, and pay to the servant only the balance to his credit without such contribution and the interest thereon. If a servant is permitted to resign under any other circumstances than those mentioned in the last sentence before he has rendered five years' complete service, the Joint Water Supply Committee may, with the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division, withhold a portion of the contribution allotted to him with interest bearing the same ratio to the whole amount so contributed with interest thereon, as the number of years required to complete a service of five years bears to five years.

20. Any contribution and interest thereon withheld from a servant shall be credited to the Joint Water Supply Committee Fund.

21. Provident Fund Ledger and Abstract of Balance.—A Provident Fund Ledger in the following form having a separate page for each depositor's account shall be maintained in the Joint Water Supply Committee Office:—

When Post Office Five-Year Cash Certificates are purchased out of the balance, in the Savings Bank, the proportionate share of each depositor shall be fixed and the amount shall be deducted from the amount against his name in column 9 and entered in column 14 of the ledger, until the cash certificate matures or is cashed. The total of column 9 of the ledger will be proved with the total balance of the pass book monthly by means of an abstract of balances in the following forms:—

Deduct interest on Government and other securities not credited into the Post Office but included in the individual accounts. Add—The fraction of a rupee paid from the fund of the Joint Water Supply Committee [vide rule 12(4)].
	Total in pass-book.

22. (1) Calculation of the interest due on each account shall be made at the rate of 2½ per cent. or at such rate as may be allowed at the time by the Post Office Savings Bank per annum for each calender month on the lowest balance at credit of an account between the closing of the fourth day and the end of the month. The yearly interest thus calculated on each account shall be entered in column 16 of the abstract of balances prescribed in rule 21. As soon after the 30th of April, as the interest for the previous year is added by the Post Office to the principal of the Fund and the interest on investment through other agencies is drawn by the President and credited in the Savings Bank Account [see rule 9(2)], the total yearly interest calculated at the aforesaid rate of 2½ per cent. or at such rate as may be allowed at the time by the Post Office Savings Bank and entered in the depositor's accounts, as shown in column 16 of the said abstract of balances, shall be deducted from the total interest actually received for the year, and this excess interest, together with the gain or loss by the sale of Government securities, if any, during the year [see rule 9(3)] shall be shared by those depositors whose credits in the Provident Fund exceed Rs. 100 in proportion to their balances on the 31st March: Provided that, for the purpose of calculating and crediting to each depositor's account his share of the excess interest, the total balance at the depositor's credit shall be taken as the nearest hundred. The interest thus calculated shall be added to the principal in column 9 of the depositor's ledger account (see form in rule 21).

(2) In the case of the Post Office Five-Year Cash Certificates, the total amount received from the Post Office shall be apportioned to each depositor, when the cash certificate matures or is cashed, in the proportion fixed at the time of purchase.

(3) If any payment has to be made during the year on a depositor's account the interest calculated monthly at 2½ per cent. or at such rate as may be allowed at the time by the Post Office Savings Bank on that account shall be added to the principal in column 9 (see form in rule 21), and for his proportionate share in the Post Office Cash Certificates, the amount due as calculated from the figures given at the back of the cash certificate shall be added.

(4) The provisional increase to contributions under rule 6 or the temporary advance under sub-rule (4) of rule 12 shall be credited to the Joint Water Supply Committee as a miscellaneous receipt. If, however, the total of the provisional increase and temporary advance is, or contains, a fraction of a rupee, this fraction of a rupee shall be left in the Savings Bank for adjustment at the close of the following year. When the balances have been thus compared and adjusted, the ledger account of the next year shall be opened.

23. A copy of his ledger account signed by the Vice-President of the Joint Water Supply Committee shall be given to each subscriber after the annual comparison and adjustment of balances. Subscribers must satisfy themselves as to the correctness of these accounts, and unless errors in them are brought to the notice of the Vice-President within one month from the date of their receipt, no claim based on such error shall be subsequently recognised.

24. Dead accounts.—On a depositor leaving the service his account shall be closed, and unless the amount at his credit be withdrawn within a certain period, namely:—

For balance of Rs. 10 and under, one year, and for balances over Rs. 10, three years, it shall be written off as a dead account, and repaid only under the orders of the Commissioner of the Division. The fact that the account has been closed shall not operate as a bar to the interest being credited to the depositor's accounts, i.e., the interest accruing until the amount of deposit is withdrawn for payment to the depositor or his heir, or, under rule 25, shall be added to the deposit.

25. When accounts become "Dead" they must be removed from the Provident Fund Ledger and be credited in the cash book as a miscellaneous receipt, the money being drawn out of the Savings Bank. On an amount being thus written off, it shall be entered in a "Dead Account" register, in which subsequent repayments shall be noted in order to avoid a double payment.

26. Procedure.—The President of the Joint Water Supply Committee shall endeavour to secure from all depositors on their first joining the Fund the submission of the Form of Declaration prescribed in rule 13. If a depositor desires to revise his Declaration he shall apply to the President of the Joint Water Supply Committee for the necessary form. All such Declarations still in force shall be carefully recorded in the personal custody of a responsible officer.

Substitution of new section for section 12B.

4. For section 12B of the principal Act, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

Capital gains.

"12B. (1) The tax shall be payable by an assessee under the head "Capital Gains" in respect of any profits or gains arising from the sale, exchange, relinquishment or transfer of a capital asset effected after the 31st day of March, 1956, and such profits and gains shall be deemed to be income of the previous year in which the sale, exchange, relinquishment or transfer took place:

Provided that any distribution of capital assets on the total or partial partition of a Hindu undivided family or under a deed of gift, bequest or will shall not for the purposes of this section be treated as a sale, exchange, relinquishment or transfer of the capital assets:

Provided further that the transfer of a capital asset by a company to a subsidiary company, the whole of the share capital of which is held by the parent company or by the nominees thereof, shall not be treated as a sale, exchange or transfer within the meaning of this section where the subsidiary company is resident in the taxable territories and is registered under the Indian Companies Act, 1956, so however that for the purposes of clause (vi) or clause (vii) of sub-section (2) of section 10, the cost or the written down value, as the case may be, of the transferred capital asset shall be taken to be the same as it would have been if the parent company had continued to hold the capital asset for the purposes of its business.

(2) The amount of a capital gain shall be computed after making the following deductions from the full value of the consideration for which the sale, exchange, relinquishment or transfer of the capital asset is made, namely:—

"(i) expenditure incurred solely in connection with such sale, exchange, relinquishment or transfer;

(ii) the actual cost to the assessee of the capital asset, including any expenditure of a capital nature incurred and borne by him in making any additions or alterations thereto, but excluding any expenditure in respect of which any allowance is admissible under any provision of sections 8, 9, 10 and 12:

Provided that where a person who acquires a capital asset from the assessee, whether by sale, exchange, relinquishment or transfer is a person with whom the assessee is directly or indirectly connected, and the Income-tax Officer has reason to believe that the sale, exchange, relinquishment or transfer was effected with the object of avoidance or reduction of the liability of the assessee under this section, the full value of the consideration for which the sale, exchange relinquishment or transfer is made shall, with the prior approval of the Inspecting Assistant Commissioner of Income-tax, be taken to be the fair market value of the capital asset on the date on which the sale, exchange, relinquishment or transfer took place:

Provided further that where the capital asset is an asset in respect of which the assessee has obtained depreciation allowance in any year, the actual cost of the asset to the assessee shall be its written down value, as defined in section 10, increased or diminished, as the case may be, by any adjustment made under clause (vii) of sub-section (2) of that section:

Provided further that where the capital asset became the property of the assessee, or of the previous owner where the cost of the capital asset to the previous owner is to be taken in accordance with sub-section (3), before the 1st day of January, 1954, he may, on proof of the fair market value thereof on the said date to the satisfaction of the Income-tax Officer, substitute for the actual cost such fair market value which shall be deemed to be the actual cost to him of the asset, and which shall be reduced by the amount of depreciation, if any, allowed to the assessee after the said date and increased or diminished, as the case may be, by any adjustment made under clause (vii) of sub-section (2) of section 10:

Provided further that where the capital asset was on any previous occasion the subject of negotiations for its sale, exchange, relinquishment or transfer, any option or other money received and retained by the assessee in respect of such negotiations shall be deducted in computing the actual cost to him of such asset.

(3) Where any capital asset became the property of the assessee by succession, inheritance or devolution or on any distribution of capital assets on the total or partial partition of a Hindu undivided family or on the dissolution of a firm or other association of persons or on the liquidation of a company or under a deed of gift, or transfer on irrevocable trust, its actual cost allowable to him for the purposes of this section shall be its actual cost to the previous owner thereof, and the provisions of sub-section (2) shall apply accordingly; and where the actual cost to the previous owner cannot be ascertained, the fair market value at the date on which the capital asset became the property of the previous owner shall be deemed to be the actual cost thereof:

Provided that where the capital asset became the property of the assessee—

(i) before the 1st day of April, 1956, under a deed of gift or on the partition of a Hindu undivided family, the actual cost allowable to him shall be the fair market value of the capital asset on the date of the gift or the date of the partition, as the case may be, if such value is greater than the actual cost to the previous owner of the fair market value thereof on the 1st day of January, 1954, where the third proviso to sub-section (2) applies;

(ii) on or after the 1st day of April, 1956, on the partition of a Hindu undivided family, the cost allowable to him shall be the fair market value on the date of the partition.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1)—

(a) where a capital gain arises from the sale, exchange or transfer of one or more capital assets being property the income of which is chargeable under section 9, and the full aggregate value of the consideration for which the sale, exchange or transfer is made does not exceed the sum of twenty-five thousand rupees, the capital gain shall not be charged under this section and shall not also be included in the total income of the assessee:

Provided that this clause shall not apply in any case where the aggregate of the fair market values of all capital assets, being property the income of which is chargeable under section 9, owned by the assessee immediately before the sale, exchange or transfer aforesaid is made, exceeds the sum of rupees fifty thousand;

(b) where a capital gain arises from the sale, exchange, relinquishment or transfer of a capital asset to which the provisions of clause (a) are not applicable, being property the income of which is chargeable under section 9, which in the two years immediately preceding the date on which the sale, exchange, relinquishment or transfer took place, was being used by the assessee or a parent of his mainly for the purposes of his own or the parent's own residence, and the assessee has within a period of one year before or after that date purchased a new property for the purposes of his own residence, then instead of the capital gain being charged to tax as income of the previous year in which the sale, exchange, relinquishment or transfer took place, it shall, if the assessee so elects in writing before the assessment is made, be dealt with in accordance with the following provisions of this clause, that is to say,—

(i) if the amount of the capital gain is greater than the cost of the new asset, the difference between the amount of the capital gain and the cost of the new asset shall be charged under this section as income of the previous year, or

(ii) if the amount of the capital gain is equal to or less than the cost of the new asset, the capital gain shall not be charged under this section."

Amendment of section 17.

5. In section 17 of the principal Act,—

(a) for clause (ii) of sub-section (6), the following clause shall be substituted, namely:—

"(ii) on the whole amount of such inclusion, income-tax equal to the amount which bears to the income-tax which would have been payable on his total income as reduced by two-thirds of the amount of such inclusion the same proportion as the whole amount of such inclusion bears to such reduced total income:

Provided that where the amount of such inclusion does not exceed the sum of five thousand rupees or the total income does not exceed the sum of ten thousand rupees such income-tax shall be nil and in any other case such income-tax shall not exceed one-half of the amount by which the amount of such inclusion exceeds the sum of five thousand rupees;"

(b) for sub-section (7), the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:—

"(7) Where the total income of a company includes any income chargeable under the head "Capital Gains", the super-tax payable by it shall be calculated on its total income as reduced by the amount of such inclusion."

Amendment of section 23A.

6. In section 23A of the principal Act,—

(a) in sub-section (1), for the words "at the rate of four annas in the rupee", the words "at the rate of six annas in the rupee" shall be substituted.

(b) after the proviso to sub-section (1), the following further proviso shall be inserted, namely:—

"Provided further that in the case of a company referred to in sub-section (4), this section shall apply as if for the words "sixty per cent. of the total income" and "fifty-five per cent. of its total income" wherever they occur, the words "fifty per cent. of the total income" and "forty-five per cent. of its total income" respectively had been substituted."

(c) in clause (i) of sub-section (2), for the words "in clause (a) of the proviso to that sub-section", the words "in clause (a) of the first proviso to that sub-section" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 24.

7. In section 24 of the principal Act,—

(a) in sub-section (2B), the words "so however that no such loss shall be so carried forward for more than six years" shall be omitted;

Capacity of a male Hindu to take in adoption.

7. Any male Hindu who is of sound mind and is not a minor has the capacity to take a son or a daughter in adoption:

Provided that, if he has a wife living, he shall not adopt except with the consent of his wife unless the wife has completely and finally renounced the world or has ceased to be a Hindu or has been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be of unsound mind.

Explanation.—If a person has more than one wife living at the time of adoption, the consent of all the wives is necessary unless the consent of any one of them is unnecessary for any of the reasons specified in the preceding proviso.

Capacity of a female Hindu to take in adoption.

8. Any female Hindu who—

(a) who is of sound mind,

(b) who is not a minor, and

(c) who is not married, or if married, whose marriage has been dissolved or whose husband is dead or has completely and finally renounced the world or has ceased to be a Hindu or has been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be of unsound mind, has the capacity to take a son or daughter in adoption.

Persons capable of giving in adoption.

9. (1) No person except the father or mother or the guardian of a child shall have the capacity to give the child in adoption.

(2) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (3), the father, if alive, shall alone have the right to give in adoption, but such right shall not be exercised save with the consent of the mother unless the mother has completely and finally renounced the world or has ceased to be a Hindu or has been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be of unsound mind.

(3) The mother may give the child in adoption if the father is dead or has completely and finally renounced the world or has ceased to be a Hindu or has been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be of unsound mind.

(4) Where both the father and mother are dead or have completely and finally renounced the world or have been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be of unsound mind, the guardian of a child (whether a testamentary guardian or a guardian appointed or declared by a court) may give the child in adoption with the previous permission of the court.

(5) Before granting permission to a guardian under sub-section (4), the court shall be satisfied that the adoption will be for the welfare of the child, due consideration being for this purpose given to the wishes of the child having regard to the age and understanding of the child and that the applicant for permission has not received or agreed to receive and that no person has made or given or agreed to make or give to the applicant any payment or reward in consideration of the adoption except such as the court may sanction.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section—

(i) the expressions "father" and "mother" do not include an adoptive father and an adoptive mother; and

(ii) "court" means the city civil court or a district court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the child to be adopted ordinarily resides.

10. No person shall be capable of being taken in adoption unless the following conditions are fulfilled, namely:—

(i) he or she is a Hindu;

(iii) if the adoption is by a male and the person to be adopted is a female, the adoptive father is at least twenty-one years older than the person to be adopted;

(iv) if the adoption is by a female and the person to be adopted is a male, the adoptive mother is at least twenty-one years older than the person to be adopted;

(v) the same child may not be adopted simultaneously by two or more persons;

(vi)the child to be adopted must be actually given and taken in adoption by the parents or guardian concerned or under their authority with inent to transfer the child from the family of its birth to the family of its adoption:

Provided that the performance of datta homan shall not be essential to the validity of an adoption.

Effects of adoption.

12. An adopted child shall be deemed to be the child of his or her adoptive father or mother for all purposes with effect from the date of the adoption and from such date all the ties of the child in the family of his or her birth shall be deemed to be severed and replaced by those created by the adoption in the adoptive family:

Provided that—

(a) the child cannot marry any person whom he or she could not have married if he or she had continued in the family of his or her birth;

(b) any property which vested in the adopted child before the adoption shall continue to vest in such person subject to the obligations, if any, attaching to the ownership of such property, including the obligation to maintain relatives in the family of his or her birth;

(c) the adopted child shall not divest any person of any estate which vested in him or her before the adoption.

Right of adoptive parents to dispose of their properties.

13. Subject to any agreement to the contrary, an adoption does not deprive the adoptive father or mother of the power to dispose of his or her property by transfer inter vivos or by will.

Determination of adoptive mother in certain cases.

14. (1) Where a Hindu who has a wife living adopts a child, she shall be deemed to be the adoptive mother.

(3) Where a widower or a bachelor adopts a child, any wife whom he subsequently marries shall be deemed to be the step-mother of the adopted child.

(4) Where a widow or an unmarried woman adopts a child, any husband whom she marries subsequently shall be deemed to be the step-father of the adopted child.

15. No adoption which has been validly made can be cancelled by the adoptive father or mother or any other person, nor can the adopted child renounce his or her status as such and return to the family of his or her birth. Valid adoption not to be cancelled.

16. Whenever any document registered under any law for the time being in force is produced before any court purporting to record an adoption made and is signed by the person giving and the person taking the child in adoption, the court shall presume that the adoption has been made in compliance with the provisions of this Act unless and until it is disproved. Presumption as to registered documents relating to adoption.

17. (1) No person shall receive or agree to receive any payment or other reward in consideration of the adoption of any person, and no person shall make or give or agree to make or give to any other person any payment or reward the receipt of which is prohibited by this section. Prohibition of certain payments.

(2) If any person contravenes the provisions of sub-section (1), he shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine, or with both.

(3) No prosecution under this section shall be instituted without the previous sanction of the State Government or an officer authorised by the State Government in this behalf.

18. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, a Hindu wife, whether married before or after the commencement of this Act, shall be entitled to be maintained by her husband during her life-time. Maintenance of wife.

(2) A Hindu wife shall be entitled to live separately from her husband without forfeiting her claim to maintenance,—

19. (1) A Hindu wife, whether married before or after the commencement of this Act, shall be entitled to be maintained after the death of her husband by her father-in-law:

Provided and to the extent that she is unable to maintain herself out of her own earnings or other property or, where she has no property of her own, is unable to obtain maintenance—

(a) from the estate of her husband or her father or mother, or

(b) from her son or daughter, if any, or his or her estate.

(2) Any obligation under sub-section (1) shall not be enforceable if the father-in-law has not the means to do so from any coparcenary property in his possession out of which the daughter-in-law has not obtained any share, and any such obligation shall cease on the re-marriage of the daughter-in-law.

Maintenance of children and aged parents.

20. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section a Hindu is bound, during his or her life-time, to maintain his or her legitimate or illegitimate children and his or her aged or infirm parents.

(2) A legitimate or illegitimate child may claim maintenance from his or her father or mother so long as the child is a minor.

(3) The obligation of a person to maintain his or her aged or infirm parent or a daughter who is unmarried extends in so far as the parent or the unmarried daughter, as the case may be, is unable to maintain himself or herself out of his or her own earnings or other property.

(v) his or her unmarried daughter, or the unmarried daughter of his pre-deceased son or the unmarried daughter of a pre-deceased son of his pre-deceased son, so long as she remains unmarried: provided and to the extent that she is unable to obtain maintenance, in the case of a grand daughter from her father's or mother's estate and in the case of a great grand daughter from the estate of her father or mother or father's father or father's mother;

(vi) his widowed daughter: provided and to the extent that she is unable to obtain maintenance—

(vii) any widow of his son or of a son of his pre-deceased son, so long as she does not re-marry: provided and to the extent that she is unable to obtain maintenance from her husband's estate, or from her son or daughter, if any, or his or her estate; or in the case of a grandson's widow, also from her father-in-law's estate;

(viii) his or her minor illegitimate son, so long as he remains a minor;

(ix) his or her illegitimate daughter, so long as she remains unmarried.

Maintenance of dependants.

22. (1) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), the heirs of a deceased Hindu are bound to maintain the dependants of the deceased out of the estate inherited by them from the deceased.

(2) Where a dependant has not obtained, by testamentary or intestate succession, any share in the estate of a Hindu dying after the commencement of this Act, the dependant shall be entitled, subject to the provisions of this Act, to maintenance from those who take the estate.

(3) The liability of each of the persons who takes the estate shall be in proportion to the value of the share or part of the estate taken by him or her.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (2) or sub-section (3), no person who is himself or herself a dependant shall be liable to contribute to the maintenance of others, if he or she has obtained a share or part the value of which is, or would, if the liability to contribute were enforced, become less than what would be awarded to him or her by way of maintenance under this Act.

Amount of maintenance.

23. (1) It shall be in the discretion of the court to determine whether any, and if so what, maintenance shall be awarded under the provisions of this Act, and in doing so the court shall have due regard to the considerations set out in sub-section (2) or sub-section (3), as the case may be, so far as they are applicable.

(2) In determining the amount of maintenance, if any, to be awarded to a wife, children or aged or infirm parents under this Act, regard shall be had to—

(a) the position and status of the parties;

(b) the reasonable wants of the claimant;

(c) if the claimant is living separately, whether the claimant is justified in doing so;

(d) the value of the claimant's property and any income derived from such property, or from the claimant's own earnings or from any other source;

(e) the number of persons entitled to maintenance under this Act.

(3) In determining the amount of maintenance, if any, to be awarded to a dependant under this Act, regard shall be had to—

(a) the net value of the estate of the deceased after providing for the payment of his debts;

(b) the provision, if any, made under a will of the deceased in respect of the dependant;

(c) the degree of relationship between the two;

(d) the reasonable wants of the dependant;

(e) the past relations between the dependant and the deceased;

(f) the value of the property of the dependant and any income derived from such property; or from his or her earnings or from any other source;

(g) the number of dependants entitled to maintenance under this Act.

Claimant to maintenance should be a Hindu.

24. No person shall be entitled to claim maintenance under this Chapter if he or she has ceased to be a Hindu by conversion to another religion.

Amount of maintenance may be altered on change of circumstances.

25. The amount of maintenance, whether fixed by a decree of court or by agreement, either before or after the commencement of this Act, may be altered subsequently if there is a material change in the circumstances justifying such alteration.

Debts to have priority.

26. Subject to the provisions contained in section 27 debts of every description contracted or payable by the deceased shall have priority over the claims of his dependants for maintenance under this Act.

27. A dependant's claim for maintenance under this Act shall not be a charge on the estate of the deceased or any portion thereof, unless one has been created by the will of the deceased, by a decree of court, by agreement between the dependant and the owner of the estate or portion, or otherwise. Maintenance when to be a charge.

28. Where a dependant has a right to receive maintenance out of an estate and such estate or any part thereof is transferred, the right to receive maintenance may be enforced against the transferee if the transferee has notice of the right, or if the transfer is gratuitous; but not against the transferee for consideration and without notice of the right. Effect of transfer of property on right to maintenance.

Rules 31 to 33 prescribed under sub-section (4) of section 17.

Provided that in any such parts in which the mounting height of the light source for general illumination necessarily exceeds 25 feet measured from the floor or where the structure of the room or the position or construction of the fixed machinery or plant prevents the uniform attainment of this standard, the general illumination at the said level shall be not less than 1 foot candle and where work is actually being done the illumination shall be not less than 3-foot candles.

(2) The illumination over all other interior parts of the factory over which persons employed pass, shall, when and where a person is passing, be not less than 0.5 foot candles at floor level.

37. Design, situation, etc., of latrines.—The following provisions shall apply to all latrines:—

(1) The design and the site or situation shall be subject to the approval of the Directorate of Health Services, West Bengal, and the construction shall be subject to the approval of the Chief Inspector.

When the pit becomes full, the valves shall be closed and the solid matter and sludge shall be allowed time to settle. The effluent shall then be drawn off and sterilised, and the solid matter and sludge shall be trenched or burnt:

Provided that where the Inspector is satisfied that in respect of any septic tank, the requirements of clause (2) are not necessary, he may, by order in writing, grant exemption from that clause on such conditions, if any, as he may impose.

39. Reference to municipal and local authorities.—In the case of factories situated in places within the limit of a local authority if it appears to the Inspector that there has been a breach of the provisions of any municipal or local Act relating to sanitary arrangements, removal of objectionable rubbish, the cleaning and fencing of water tanks, or the like matters, the Inspector shall without prejudice to any action which he is empowered to take under the Act or the rules thereunder draw the attention of the local authority to the breach of such provisions.

SAFETY

Safety precautions prescribed under sub-section (2) of section 21.

47. Safety precautions.—Without prejudice to the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 21 in regard to the fencing of machines, the further precautions specified in the Schedules annexed hereto shall apply to the machines noted in each Schedule.

SCHEDULE I

1. Fencing of machinery.—Fencings, guards or safety devices in respect of each individual machine as prescribed shall be provided and maintained in good order.

2. Softening machines.—(a) A safety stopping device comprising a breast plate in front of the feed table to operate the belt striking gear by releasing an unbalanced weight.

No device departing from the unbalanced weight principle will be deemed to conform to this rule unless it has been approved in writing by the Inspector. In the case of machines provided with an individual electric drive the device shall be arranged to act on a switch inserted in the no-volt release circuit.

(b) The feed table shall not be less than 6′ in length, measured from the centre of the first cloth roller to the centre of the first pair of cast iron rollers. The table shall be provided with side guards reaching a height of not less than 4′-6″ from the floor, and extending, at that height, not less than 3′-6″ from the centre of the first pair of rollers; the height of the rest of the side guards shall not be less than 4′ from the floor.

(c) The starting and stopping gear shall be arranged to comply with the following:—

(i) Provision for stopping the machine at both the feed and delivery ends.

(ii) Provision for starting the machine at the feed end only, the design shall be such that an operator at the feed end cannot start the machine without the co-operation of an operator at the delivery end.

(iii) When a machine is stopped for clearing a jam or attention otherwise, the starting gear shall be secured in the "off" position at least by a lock operated by a removable key in possession of the person attending the machine.

(iv) The lever operating the unbalanced weight shall be securely fenced.

(d) Sheet steel casings completely enclosing the side shafts, i.e., the shafts and gears shall not be exposed on the underside. The casings shall be locked or secured by a device which will ensure (i) that they cannot be opened while the machine is in motion and (ii) that it will not be possible to start the machine unless they are closed.

3. Carding machines.—(a) The underframe shall be guarded in such a manner that it will not be possible for operatives to obtain access underneath the machine until the cylinder has ceased to revolve. The lowest cross member of the frame shall come down to a point not more than 10″ from the floor and all openings above this, large enough to permit of access underneath, shall be filled in with sheet steel or fitted with bars or rods spaced not more than 6″ apart. Any part of this protection may be in the form of a door, but all such doors shall be controlled by a device which will ensure that they cannot be opened until the cylinder has come to rest and that the machine cannot be restarted until the doors are closed:

Provided that in the case of machines installed before the commencement of this rule rigidly secured panels filling the underframe will be deemed to comply with it.

(b) A guard with panels and sliding doors of sheet steel or closely spaced bars or rods enclosing the side gears; there shall be no opening at the underside of this protection for access to the gears. The sliding doors shall be controlled by a device which will ensure that they cannot be opened until the cylinder has come to rest, and that the machine cannot be started up until the doors are closed.

(c) A sheet steel guard extending up to the centre line of the cylinder, enclosing the stripper belts and pulleys shall be provided on all machines installed after the commencement of this rule.

(d) An adequately strong and rigid set of bars or rods over the doffer roller, securely bolted in position. This guard must follow the radius of the roller; the space between the rods not to exceed 2″; the distance from the doffer pin points to the underside of the rods to be 4″; the space between the Drawing pressing roller and the first rod not to exceed 2″; and the width of the guard from the first to the last rod to be not less than 12″.

(e) A hand or guard rail extending the full width of the Drawing pressing roller, fitted in a convenient position in front of and higher than the roller.

(f) Effective side guards to prevent operatives' fingers being caught between the delivery roller and the pressing ball.

(g) When a machine is stopped for clearing a jam or attention otherwise, the starting gear shall be secured in the "off" position at least by a lock operated by a removable key in possession of the person attending the machine.

4. Drawing machines.—(a) A sheet steel guard completely closing the space between the bend rail and the bottom of the retaining roller, the opening and closing of which shall be controlled by the starting gear, and the design such that the guard cannot be opened while the machine is running. The guard plate shall swivel more or less about the centre of its height, and the top edge shall swing inwards towards the gill bars as the guard opens, and outwards as the guard closes:

Provided that in the case of machines installed before the commencement of this rule, a fixed guard will be sufficient if the clearance between the top of the guard and the underside of the retaining roller does not exceed 3/8″:

Provided, further that in the case of machines with individual electric drive it will be sufficient if the guard is of the swivelling type and inter-linked with the driving mechanism so that sliver cannot be fed into the gills, or the guard opened, before the machine is stopped, and that the machine cannot be started up unless the guard is closed.

(b) Sheet steel or cast iron guards completely enclosing the end gears, the design to be such that access to the gears is possible only by removing the guard in its entirety. If doors or movable panels are provided they shall be controlled by a locking device, operated by the starting gear, which will ensure that the machine cannot be started unless the guard is completely closed and that no moveable part can be opened whilst the machine is in motion:

Provided that in the case of machines installed before the commencement of this rule a guard securely held in position by automatic catches to prevent opening by vibration but without the inter-locking arrangement will be deemed to comply with it.

(c) An efficient guard which will prevent operatives' fingers or hands being caught between the delivery roller and the pressing ball.

(d) Starting and stopping gear so designed that the machine can be stopped by operatives on the feed and delivery sides; can be started only by an operative on the feed side but with the co-operation of the operative on the delivery side and cannot be started by an operative on the delivery side. The device necessitating co-operation shall be engaged before the machine stops.

(e) Shear pins driving the individual carriages shall be fitted to the pinion on the main back shaft and not to the pinion on the carriage back shaft.

5. Roving machines.—(a) Starting and stopping gear designed to embody the following:—

(i) Provision for stopping the machine on both the feed and delivery sides.

(ii) Provision for starting the machine on the delivery side only.

(iii) A device on the delivery side which will automatically lock the belt striking gear in the "off" position. This device shall be such that the machine will not stop before the lock is engaged nor start before it is disengaged by a worker on the delivery side.

(b) Sheet steel or cast iron guards completely enclosing the end gears, the design to be such that access to the gears is possible only by removing the guard in its entirety. If doors or movable panels are provided they shall be controlled by a locking device, operated by the starting gear, which will ensure that the machine cannot be started unless the guard is completely closed and that no movable part can be opened whilst the machine is in motion:

Provided that in the case of machines installed before the commencement of this rule a guard securely held in position by automatic catches to prevent opening by vibration, but without the interlocking arrangement will be deemed to comply with it.

(c) Shear pins driving individual carriages shall be fitted to the pinion on the main back shaft and not to the pinion on the carriage back shaft.

6. Spinning frames.—(a) Access between the driving cylinders whilst in motion shall be prevented by providing a door at the pass end, so interconnected with the starting gear that neither side of the frame can be set in motion whilst the door is open and conversely, the door cannot be opened whilst either or both sides of the frame is or are running:

Provided that in the case of machines installed before the commencement of this rule hinged and well secured doors will be deemed to comply with it.

(b) Sheet steel or cast iron guards completely enclosing the end gears, the design to be such that access to the gears is possible only by removing the guard in its entirety. If doors or movable panels are provided they shall be controlled by a locking device, operated by the starting gear, which will ensure that the machine cannot be started unless the guard is completely closed and that no movable part can be opened whilst the machine is in motion:

Provided that in the case of machines installed before the commencement of this rule a guard securely held in position by automatic catches to prevent opening by vibration, but without the interlocking arrangement will be deemed to comply with it.

7. Cop winding machines.—(a) Effective guards covering the driving end gears. Hinged doors or panels will not be deemed to comply with this rule unless securely held in the closed position by automatic catches to prevent opening by vibration.

(b) Guards covering the spindle driving gears of such design that it will not be possible to remove them from position whilst the machine is in motion:

Provided that in the case of machines installed before the commencement of this rule, guards rigidly secured by bolts or screws will be deemed to comply with it.

8. Roll winding machines.—Effective guards for traverse or other gears and cams. Hinged doors or panels will not be deemed to comply with this rule unless securely held in the closed position by automatic catches to prevent opening by vibration.

9. Beaming and dressing machines.—(a) The flywheel shall be of the disc type.

(b) Cross and side shafts driving the starch rollers shall be enclosed in protecting tubes.

(c) A guard securely anchored in position and protecting the nip between the top and bottom starch rollers. It shall have an aperture large enough to pass the yarn through but not the operative's hand. A hinged guard will not be deemed to be compliance with this rule.

(d) A guard protecting the nip between the yarn beam pressing roller and the outer top weight roller, i.e., the top weight roller on the side at which the beam is inserted and removed.

(e) The space between any yarn guide roller and its adjacent steam cylinder must be not less than 3″.

10. Looms.—(a) Sheet steel or cast iron guards protecting the crank and wyper shaft spur gears shall be provided.

(b) The minimum clearance between the sley and the breast beam shall be not less than 2″.

(c) Yarn beams shall be placed on looms by mechanical or other means. Lifting into position by hand alone will not be deemed to comply with this rule.

11. Cropping machines.—Sheet steel guards protecting the spirals shall be provided.

12. Calendering machines.—(a) A strong and rigid guard, securely fixed in position, in front of the nip between the bottom cast iron roller and the paper roller on top of same. This guard shall be constructed in such a manner that it will be impossible for the fingers of an operative to reach the nip through the aperture in the guard.

(b) Safety rollers protecting the nip of the upper rollers. These rollers must be made of steel or wrought iron tube, as light as possible, and not more than 2½″ external diameter. The safety roller shall ride on the under roller and be free to lift. It shall be set in such a manner that the peripheral clearance between it and the upper roller, and the between it and the under roller when the safety roller is fully raised, will not permit of an operative's fingers reaching the nip.

(c) Sheet steel panels shall be fitted on the machine gable to prevent access through same to the large spur wheel.

(d) Lever weights shall be lowered into strong and rigid guards.

13. Cloth cutting machines.—A guard preventing access to the knife from the front, top or sides shall be provided. On the underside the knife shall be protected up to the maximum limit without interfering with the machine operation.

3. Method of paying tax.—The tax shall be paid to the Taxing Officer of the area in which the vehicle is kept in the following manner, that is to say,—

(a) in Calcutta, at the Taxing Officer's Office, in cash or by cheque or by money order;

(b) outside Calcutta, through the treasury or at the Taxing Officer's office, by money order or by cheque or in such other manner as the Taxing Officer may allow. (3) A separate declaration or additional declaration, as the case may be, shall be presented to the Taxing Officer in respect of each vehicle.

(4) Every declaration and additional declaration shall be filed in the office of the Taxing Officer.

5. Checking of declaration.—The Taxing Officer shall satisfy himself that every declaration or additional declaration delivered to him is complete in every respect and the amount already paid or now tendered to him in payment of the tax is the amount due on the vehicle.

6. Grant of receipt.—(1) When satisfied that the amount of the tax tendered is correct, the Taxing Officer shall accept payment of the tax and grant a receipt as nearly as possible in Form C (West Bengal Form No. 39) or retain as a voucher one copy of the treasury challan, as the case may be.

(2) If payment has already been made—

(a) through a treasury or a branch of the State Bank of India, the duplicate challan will serve as a receipt and the triplicate shall be retained by the Taxing Officer as a voucher;

(b) in a Magistrate's Court or after issue of a distress warrant, a peremptory cash receipt shall be given as nearly as possible in West Bengal Form No. 3581 or in High Court Civil Miscellaneous Form No. (M.) 128, or in High Court Criminal Miscellaneous Form No. (M.)21, and the Magistrate's receipt given under rule 17 shall be retained by the Taxing Officer as a voucher.

7. Grant of token.—(1) When the Taxing Officer is satisfied that the tax has been paid for a period not yet expired and that the registration of the motor vehicle for which it is paid is valid, he shall deliver to the person who has paid the tax a token as nearly as possible in Form D (West Bengal Form No. 330E).

(2) When a token is issued for a vehicle of which the registration is still pending with the Registering Authority, the Taxing Officer shall leave the item relating to the registration number blank. On receipt of the certificate of registration, the owner of the vehicle shall produce the token together with the certificate of registration before the Taxing Officer who shall thereupon enter the registration number of the vehicle on the token and in his registers.

8. Return of token.—Every token shall be returned to the Taxing Officer either on its expiry or at the time of payment of the tax for the subsequent year or quarter, when it shall be attached to the declaration under sub-section (1) of section 6 relating thereto. It shall be defaced by the Taxing Officer and filed in his office with the declaration, if any.

9. Token to be exhibited.—The token shall be attached to and carried on the vehicle or trailer in the manner provided in rule 10 at all times when the vehicle or trailer is in use.

10. Manner of exhibiting token.—The token shall be carried in a holder made of metal and of weather-proof construction. The holder shall be circular and conform to the following specifications:—

(a) Token tray.—The token tray shall be of sheet metal of a size to fit the token neatly and of a suitable thickness. It shall have a turned up edge of sufficient depth to hold the token and shall be provided with a stout cover of transparent colourless glass, or shall be so designed as to fit against the wind-screen, which must then be of transparent colourless glass, in such a manner that the glass of the screen serves as a cover.

(b) Ring cover.—Unless the token tray fits against the wind-screen glass in the above manner, there shall be a circular ring of sheet metal shaped to fit down closely on the tray and adopted for fixing by screws, bolts or otherwise to the vehicle in the prescribed position. A rubber packing ring shall be arranged to fit between the ring cover and cover glass and tray, or between the glass of the wind-screen and the tray, so as to render the whole carrier weather-proof.

(c) Dimensions.—The aperture within the ring cover shall clearly exhibit the whole of the token and shall have a diameter of approximately 2⅝ths inches.

The token shall be fitted on the vehicle in such a position that it shall be clearly visible in daylight to a person standing beside the vehicle in front of, or level with, the driver's seat.

NOTE.—As it has been found that tokens often fade and become illegible if regularly exposed to direct sunlight, owners are recommended to have them fitted inside the vehicle on the instrument board. Their particular attention is called to the provisions of rule 12 which make it illegal to use an illegible token.

11. Defacing token.—No person shall alter, deface, mutilate or add anything to the token or exhibit a token on a vehicle other than the vehicle mentioned in the token.

12. Use of imitation and illegible tokens forbidden.—No person shall exhibit in the manner provided in rule 10 any imitation of a token or use on a vehicle any token which has become illegible.

13. Responsibility of owner for token.—If the token is lost, destroyed, defaced, altered, or has become illegible, the owner shall immediately report the facts to the Taxing Officer who issued the token.

14. Vehicles exempt from the payment of tax.—(1) Vehicles exempt from payment of the tax shall carry documents in support of such exemption instead of tokens.

(2) (a) Persons in charge of vehicles exempt from the payment of the tax shall make a report to the Taxing Officer in the month of April every year stating whether the circumstances in consideration of which the vehicles were so exempt during the preceding year exist at the time.

(b) If at any time such circumstances cease to exist, the persons concerned shall immediately report the fact to the Taxing Officer in order to enable him to assess and recover the tax thenceforward.

15. Token books.—(1) On receipt of books of tokens from the Press and Forms Department the Taxing Officer himself or a Gazetted Officer under his orders shall count the token contained in each book and shall give a certificate on the cover of the book as to the number of tokens found to be contained in it.

(2) The books of tokens shall be kept under lock and key, and no such book shall be issued unless actually required for immediate use.

16. Quarterly periods.—The quarterly periods referred to in section 4 shall be the four periods respectively beginning on the—first day of April,

first day of July,
first day of October, and first day of January, and ending on the—last day of June,

last day of September,
last day of December, and last day of March.

17. Mode of recovery of arrear tax by the court.—(1) In prosecuting any person under the provisions of section 13 or section 14, the Taxing Officer shall forward with his report to the Magistrate a statement as nearly as may be, in Form I (West Bengal Form No. 3301).

(2) If the trying Magistrate convicts the accused he shall, at the time of passing orders, assess the tax due, direct the payment of it by the accused, and enter the amount in the statement referred to in sub-rule (1), under the heading "order of the trying Magistrate".

(3) If the tax so assessed is paid in court, the trying Magistrate shall issue a separate receipt for it as nearly as may be, in any of the forms mentioned below this rule, note the payment in the statement referred to in sub-rule (1) under the appropriate heading, attest it by his seal and make a copy of the statement over to the accused with instructions to present it to the Taxing Officer. The Taxing Officer shall then issue a token if the payment covers a period that has not yet expired:

West Bengal Form No. 3581.

High Court Civil Miscellaneous Form No. (M)128.

High Court Criminal Miscellaneous Form No. (M)21.

(4) If the tax is not paid in court, the Magistrate shall take all possible steps to realise it. When it is realised he shall proceed in the manner provided in sub-rule (3).

(5) The tax when realised shall be credited to the head "XII—Receipts under Motor Vehicles Acts" in the State Budget.

18. Suspension of registration.—(1) If a Taxing Officer declares the certificate of registration of a motor vehicle to be suspended under the provisions of section 13A he shall inform the owner that the registration of his motor vehicle has been suspended and that the use of the motor vehicle is prohibited until the whole amount of the tax and penalty, if any, due in respect of such vehicle is paid.

(2) On receipt of the tax and any penalty due, the Taxing Officer shall declare that the order of suspension of registration of the vehicle is removed.

(3) Copies of the orders regarding such suspension of registration and the release from suspension shall be forwarded by the Taxing Officer to the Registering Authority concerned for entry in the registration register.

19. Method of calculating the tax on the basis of laden or unladen weight of motor vehicles.—For the purpose of calculating the amount of the tax payable, the laden or unladen weight of the vehicle concerned, as recorded in the certificate of registration, shall ordinarily be taken into account by the Taxing Officer:

Provided that where the tax is tendered before the registration of the vehicle, the laden or unladen weight thereof, as certified or otherwise stated by the maker or authorised assembler of the vehicle, may provisionally be accepted by the Taxing Officer for the purpose of calculating the amount of the tax.

20. Exhibition of tokens on trailers.—Whenever an owner pays the tax in respect of a trailer, the Taxing Officer shall issue a token on which under the heading "vehicle" the word "trailer" shall be entered. Such token shall be exhibited on the trailer when it is in use.

21. Method of calculating the tax on vehicles for carrying passengers plying for hire.—For the purpose of calculating the amount of the tax payable in respect of vehicles for carrying passengers plying for hire, the seating capacity shall be determined as follows:—

22. Vehicles coming into West Bengal.—A person bringing a motor vehicle into West Bengal and keeping it therein for use shall within one week of the arrival of the motor vehicle report the date of its arrival to the Taxing Officer of the area wherein the vehicle is kept and shall pay the tax payable in respect of the vehicle to the Taxing Officer unless the payment has already been made or the vehicle is exempt from the payment of the tax.

NOTE.—Private cars belonging to His Highness the Maharajah of Sikkim and his staff or the Political Officer, Sikkim, shall be exempt from the operation of this rule.

NOTE.—The surrender of the tax token and the certificate of registration of a vehicle on or about the date on which it goes off the road, as recorded in the register which shall be maintained as nearly as may be in Form K, may, in the absence of any evidence to the contrary, be regarded by the Taxing Officer as satisfactory proof that the vehicle was not used during the period.

(2) The token in respect of which a claim for refund is made shall be surrendered to the Taxing Officer to whom the claim is made unless it has been lost or destroyed under circumstances which were beyond the control of the owner.

(3) On receipt of satisfactory proof that the refund is admissible, the Taxing Officer shall calculate the amount of refund due and make over to the person who paid the tax or to his nominee a certificate as nearly as possible in Form F (West Bengal Form No. 3558).

(4) The person to whom a certificate referred to in sub-rule (3) has been granted shall, on presentation of such certificate at the nearest treasury within ten days from the date of issue, be entitled to a refund of the sum mentioned therein.

Note 1.—This order is not payable more than ten days after date without a renewal enfacement by the court, and it absolutely lapses and ceases to have effect on the 31st March, next.

Note 2.—No useful check can be exercised over refunds of revenue in the account office, except in cases where full details of the collections of such revenue are received in that office, either in the treasury accounts or other documents, e.g., fine statements. It is, therefore, essential that every refund should be noted against the original credit in the departmental accounts, where all sums are entered in detail. This voucher for refunds provides for a certificate of such note having been made. The officer who received the amount should fill in columns 1 to 5 of the form and sign the certificate in column 10, while the Treasury Officer or the Sub-Treasury Officer should verify the credit by means of the particulars on columns 4 and 5 and affix his signature in column 6 in token of his having done so. The sanction for the refund may either be given on the voucher itself or quoted in it, a certified copy being attached when such orders are not separately communicated to the audit office.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order No. 1707Dis./D/11L-143/56, dated 26th April 1956, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. The aforesaid dispute is still pending before this Tribunal.

On 17th December 1956 Shri Dilip Kumar Choudhury, a workman of Messrs. per day, that he is a member of the Union, that on 23rd September 1956 he was once refused work and was verbally discharged, that he was refused work on 24th, 25th and 26th September, that on or about 27th September, he was allowed to join his duties and he actually did his work, that he was verbally discharged on the 27th September at the time of returning home from the factory, that he was not given any charge-sheet or warning, that the Management has not acted in accordance with the agreement which was made between the Company and its workmen wherein it was assured that in case of any dispute, the matter would be settled amicably. The petitioner prays that the Company may be directed to reinstate him with other consequential reliefs.

The Opposite Party Company was directed to appear before this Tribunal on 2nd January 1957 and to file written statement in reply. ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Pabitra Kumar Mazumdar against Messrs. Hanuman Engineering Works Ltd. of 13 Syed Salley Lane, Calcutta. (Case No. 100 of 1956, under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

For the complainant: None.

For the employer: Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate.

AWARD

This complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act was filed during the pendency of the reference of the dispute by the Government of West Bengal between Messrs. Hanuman Engineering Works Ltd. and their workmen under order No. 2466Dis./D/11L-8/55, dated 3rd June 1955. The award in respect of this dispute was made by the Tribunal on 29th May 1956 and was published in the Calcutta Gazette on 28th June 1956.

On 1st June 1956 one Pabitra Kumar Mazumdar, an employee of the Company, applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act stating that he was a staff of the Head Office of Messrs. Hanuman Engineering Works Ltd. and was taken to Sodepur Works temporarily and that without prior permission of the Tribunal, the company terminated the services of the applicant by its letter, dated 10th May 1956. It is further stated that the petitioner was the seniormost staff of the company. The conduct of the company in discharging the petitioner was illegal and mala fide and was in violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The petitioner, therefore, prays that the Tribunal should give an award directing the company to reinstate him with full compensation for the period of unemployment.

The company, in its written statement, states that the application under section 33A is not maintainable, inasmuch as it does not disclose any contravention of section 33 of the Act. It is further stated that the petitioner is not a workman concerned in the main dispute that was pending before the Tribunal. The main reference related to the dispute between the company and the employees of the Head Office at the relevant time. The service of the petitioner was at the disposal of the factory. It is not a fact that the petitioner was taken to Sodepur Works for any temporary assistance, as alleged. The petitioner's services were terminated bona fide and for justifiable reasons by letter, dated 10th May 1956, as per Annexure A of the application of the petitioner. The termination of the petitioner's service was bona fide, justified and lawful, and there was no violation of the principles of natural justice or of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is further stated that the petitioner after filing the application, approached the Management and settled all his disputes and received all his dues in full and final satisfaction of his claims. A copy of the receipt showing payment of his dues as stated above and stating that he had no further claim against the company is enclosed with the written statement of the company as Annexure I. It is, therefore, claimed by the company that the petitioner was not entitled to any relief by way of reinstatement or compensation and the application should be rejected.

The points that arise for decision in this case are as follows:—

Point No. 1.—Is the application under section 33A of the Act maintainable?

Point No. 2.—Is the petitioner entitled to any relief?

DECISIONS

Point No. 1.—On the date of hearing, nobody appeared for the applicant and no evidence was adduced for him. The company appeared on the date of the case and the case was heard ex parte in the absence of the applicant. It appears that the original proceedings in respect of Government order of reference No. 2466Dis./D/11L-8/55, dated 3rd June 1955, related to a dispute between Messrs. Hanuman Engineering Works Ltd. and their employees in the Head Office. The petitioner's case is that although he was a workman employed in the factory and not the Head Office at the relevant time, he was really an employee of the Head Office but was transferred to the factory temporarily and discharged while working there. The company's case in the written statement is that the applicant was never an employee of the Head Office of the company but has all along been in the employment of the factory at Sodepur and he was not concerned in the proceedings before the Tribunal in respect of the Government order of reference mentioned above. It is, therefore, claimed that the discharge of the petitioner was not hit by section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is admitted that while the petitioner was discharged, he was employed at the factory at Sodepur and not at the Head Office. The proceeding in respect of the Government order of reference mentioned above was between the company and its employees at the Head Office. There is no evidence to show that the petitioner was a permanent employee in the Head Office and was on temporarily transferred to the Sodepur Works at the date of his discharge. It is, therefore, decided that the petitioner was an employee of the Sodepur Works and was not concerned in the dispute between the company and its employees at the Head Office in respect of the Government order of reference mentioned above. The order of discharge of the petitioner was not, therefore, hit by section 33 of the Act. The present complaint under section 33A was not therefore competent.

Point No. 2.—It further appears that the employee approached the company after the filing of this petition and received all his dues in full and final satisfaction of his claim against the company. Annexure I to the company's written statement shows a copy of the receipt purported to have been given by the petitioner on receipt of Rs. 850 on account of his salary up to 14th May 1956, leave salary for 7 days, welfare allowance for March and April 1956, notice pay for one month and gratuity and other old dues in a lump sum as per settlement. The receipt also shows that the payment was received in full and final satisfaction of the petitioner's claims against the company. It is, therefore, clear that even if the petition was maintainable, the petitioner would not have been entitled to any relief, as he received all his dues in full and final satisfaction of his claims against the company.

It is, therefore, awarded that the present application under section 33A of the Act is not maintainable and the petitioner is not entitled to any relief. The application under section 33A of the Act, is therefore, dismissed.

ORDER

No. 366I.R./D/11L-64/55.—2nd February 1957.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3585Dis./D/11L-64/55, dated the 14th August 1956, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Bird & Company Limited (Labour Department), Chartered Bank Buildings, Calcutta-1, and one of their employees, Mr. I Myers, represented by Association of Employees' Unions, 23 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Sixth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its interim award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said interim award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application for interim relief filed by Mr. I. Myers, an employee of Messrs. Bird & Company (Private) Ltd., Chartered Bank Buildings, Calcutta, represented by the Association of Employees' Unions, 23 Netaji Subhas Road, Commercial Buildings, Calcutta-1. (Case No. VIII-226 of 1956.)

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the company: Shri M. S. Bala, Officer of the company.

For the Union: Shri Jiten Banerjee, Joint Secretary of the union.

The original reference out of which this present application for interim relief has arisen was made under Government order No. 3585Dis./D/11L-64/55, dated Calcutta, the 14th August 1956.

This application for interim relief made by the discharged employee Mr. I. Myers has been opposed by Messrs. Bird & Co., Ltd.

One of the grounds taken in opposition is that the Government of West Bengal had at one stage refused to make a reference in the view that the employee was not a workman. For reasons which are not apparent on the face of the record, the matter was re-considered and Government ultimately made the reference. On behalf of the company an argument was pressed that Government had no jurisdiction to make the reference after having refused to exercise its power at an antecedent stage. There are cases in support of the contrary view that Government can change its opinion and make a reference in spite of refusal at an earlier stage (vide IX F.J.R., page 125). Another case decided by the Industrial Tribunal, Bombay, reported in 1956, 1, L.L.J., page 630, may also be referred to. This objection cannot therefore be sustained.

Another point pressed by the company was that this was an individual dispute and hence the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to deal with it. The learned gentleman on behalf of the company wanted the Tribunal to go into the question of jurisdiction as a preliminary issue as in his view without deciding this point the Tribunal cannot grant any interim relief. It has been pointed out in the case reported in 1952, I.A.C. page 251, that in order to pass an interim award, it is not necessary that the question of jurisdiction must be finally decided. It is enough if a prima facie case, which would not operate to the prejudice of the final decision, is made out. In the light of this decision the matter is simplified. In the order of reference the employee is described as represented by Association of Employees' Unions. Since a registered union is appearing to represent the employee, prima facie the individual dispute has been transmuted into an industrial dispute. The latest decision on this point is found reported in 60 C.W.N. page 856. Prima facie therefore the Tribunal has jurisdiction to consider the merits.

This employee was discharged with effect from the 18th of November 1954. He was drawing a salary of Rs. 465 per month at the time. Two years have elapsed since then. The source of income having been cut off the employee is undoubtedly in a serious predicament. Besides a decent sum of money which has accumulated in his provident fund account, he is entitled to one month's pay in lieu of notice and 15 days' wages for every completed year of service by way of gratuity. As he had entered service in 1937, more than 3,000 is payable by way of gratuity. On behalf of the company the case reported in 1956, 2, L.L.J. page 63, was referred to. Their Lordships held in that case that ordinarily where the industrial dispute related to the claim for reinstatement of a dismissed employee, an interim award allowing him wages or emoluments should not be made, specially when there is risk of the money paid on the basis of the interim award being not recoverable, if the termination of service be upheld in the final award, but special cases could not be overlooked. The facts of the case do not show that any money was due to the employee. Payment of wages out of the employer's pocket which could not be recovered if the final decision on the reference was adverse to the employee cannot certainly be supported. The case I have to deal with stands on an entirely different footing. The company is not to make any payment which would involve it in a loss in the event of relief by way of reinstatement being refused. The company in fact had offered to pay one month's wages and gratuity due. There can hence be no substantial reason for withholding some payment which would help the employee to tide over the present financial crisis. If in the end reinstatement is refused the company does not stand to lose anything. It is hence directed that the company will pay to the employee within 10 (ten) days of the publication of the award a sum of Rs. 2,000 (two thousand) which would be adjusted against moneys that may become payable to the applicant on the final disposal of the case.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed by Messrs. National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., 5 Rustamjee Parsi Road, Calcutta-2, against an employee, viz., Shri N. Sengupta, 16/2/k Beliaghata Main Road, seeking permission to dismiss him (Case No. 183/33/1956)

And

In the matter of applications under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed by Shri Nirmal Sengupta, an employee of Messrs. National Carbon Co., (India) Ltd., against the aforesaid company (Case Nos. 143/33A/1956 and 158/33A/1956).

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal

For the company: Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Assistant Labour Adviser of Messrs. Engineering Association.

For the employee: Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee, assisted by Shri Nirmal Sengupta.

The original reference out of which these applications under sections 33 and 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act have arisen was made under Government order No. 1691Dis./D/10L-42(A)/56, dated Calcutta, the 25th April 1956.

An application under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act made by Messrs. National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., for permission to terminate the appointment of one of its maintenance supervisors was heard together with two applications under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act presented by the said supervisor for redress against alleged contravention of section 33 of the Act. All the three applications will be disposed of by the award in the making.

The company charge-sheeted the supervisor for negligence of duty and held an enquiry in which a number of witnesses were examined. The management arrived at the finding that the supervisor was guilty of gross negligence. Having regard to his past record of service the management found it necessary to terminate his services. As a reference proceeding is pending leave of the Tribunal has been asked for. The points on which permission has been prayed for is that on the 19th of July 1956, which was a festival holiday, the supervisor Shri N. Sengupta was placed on duty from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Necessary arrangements for his transport and meal had been made. The hour of attendance was surreptitiously postponed by Shri Sengupta arranging with the company's chauffeur to call at his residence at 8-30 a.m. He was consequently late in attendance. At 2-15 p.m., when the Maintenance Engineer Shri Homi Modi paid a surprise visit he found the workers idling away their time in several departments and the supervisor was not in sight. After going round some of the departments Shri Modi found the supervisor sleeping on a cot in the Pay-Roll Office. When roused Shri Sengupta exclaimed that he had over-slept. No other explanation was given by him to Shri Modi. Thereafter they went round the factory and in course of the tour information was brought that the Water System was not working. Shri Modi directed the Supervisor to look into this matter. Nothing was however done to set matters right. Furthermore a cleated belt in the Radio Department which required attention was clumsily repaired and the result thereof was loss of production on the following day and complete break-down of the particular equipment on 21st July 1956. It was further stated that he was the author of two anonymous letters received by the company in which slanderous remarks were made about the management.

Shri Sengupta's defence is that he had not instructed the car driver to pick him up from his residence at a later hour. He denied that he was guilty of negligence. On the other hand, the company was unfavourably disposed towards him because of his Union activities and this application to get rid of him was nothing but victimisation.

FINDING

Exhibit 10 is a note that on the 11th of July 1950, a warning was given for late attendance. Exhibit 10(a) is another warning order in which details of late attendance on many occasions were set forth. He was told in clear terms that unless he mended his ways his services would be at stake. Shri Sengupta noted his agreement to the terms and signed it. There was another incident regarding removal of a piece of welder's flint. Exhibit 10(f) is the explanation originally submitted by Shri Sengupta when charged with misappropriation. This was followed by another letter Exhibit 10(d) in which he expressed regret and begged to be excused. Exhibit 10(c) is the company's letter to Shri Sengupta that his services would be dispensed with if anything discreditable happened thereafter. This order is dated the 14th July 1955. It may be mentioned here that Shri Sengupta has organised a union of the monthly-paid staff serving in this company. Leaflets, Exts. D to D(2) relate to his activities in that behalf. The earliest of them is dated 12th September 1956. It will therefore be seen that the management had already formed a very bad opinion about him even in July 1955. He was then warned that he would be summarily dismissed if in future his conduct was found fault with. It is idle to suggest that his union activities had flicked the management on the raw, for long before he joined the existing union of the workers and formed the idea of starting a separate organisation, his stocks had gone down with the company for acts of commission or omission for which he had been given serious warnings.

The incident on the 19th of July has figured prominently in the evidence. That he was asked to be on duty from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. is not controverted. The actual time of arrival is 9-28 a.m. as will appear from Ext. 8 in which is noted the time of arrival of the car in which he was fetched from his residence. The driver was examined. His evidence is that he was instructed by Shri Sengupta to go to his house at 8-30 a.m. Shri Sengupta did not in his own evidence offer any denial. His evidence is that he waited for the driver and finding that he was not turning up he went out of his house. When he got on to the main road the car was found waiting. The driver told him that he had sent a lad to give him information. To my mind there was no justification for Shri Sengupta's remaining in his house awaiting intimation that the car had arrived. His house is inside a lane. The car admittedly remains parked on the main road. It was his duty to leave his house in right time and board the car if it was there or hire a taxi. I fail to see why he should have expected the driver to come to his house leaving the car on the main road. He was about 1½ hours' late. As it was a holiday he had probably thought that no one would be hurt by his late attendance and it was not likely that it would come to the notice of the higher authorities. Having regard to the stern warning given him in Ext. 10(c) Shri Sengupta should have borne in mind that he was standing on the verge of a precipice. He could not afford to be careless either in attendance or in the performance of his duty. Finding that in spite of the warning given Shri Sengupta failed to conform to the time-table fixed for the work, the company might reasonably take the view that he could not be relied on and was past correction.

In the factory, according to his evidence, he had to work with some fitters in the Fan Fox where noxious gas escaping gave him a headache. As the lunch hour was still to run out he wanted to take rest for a while before resuming his duty. For this purpose he went to the Pay Roll Department (Office) and after speaking to the care-taker Shri M. M. Das, that he had a splitting headache and would take rest for a while, he laid himself down on a cot. He fell asleep and was roused by Shri Modi at 2-15 p.m. He did not intend to sleep for such a long duration but accidentally he fell asleep and did not wake up earlier. It is a fact that he had spoken to Shrijut Das about the headache. The management did not examine Shrijut Das before the Tribunal as he had stated at the enquiry that Shri Sengupta had told him that he had got a severe headache. The first question that was put to him by Shri Modi who roused him was "are you feeling alright". The question is suggestive. It might have been put in that form if he were told by Shrijut Das that the supervisor was out of sorts. On behalf of the management Shrijut Chatterjee advanced an argument that the supervisor did not at any time tell Shri Modi about his headache. Having regard to the question put by Shri Modi the supervisor might have the impression that he had already been told by Shrijut Das and hence it was no use telling him again. Shrijut Chatterjee, further argued that when Modi told Shri Sengupta that he had found many of the workers doing nothing and in fact one person was found with a pack of cards, Shri Sengupta did not even then tell him that he had an attack of headache. I could not appreciate the force of this argument. If the impression was created that Shri Modi had heard about his headache from Shrijut Das there could arise no occasion for reiteration on Shri Modi drawing his attention that the workers had been neglecting their duties. Since he had fallen asleep and was out of sight the workers had taken advantage of his absence to withdraw from their duties. Repetition of the plea of headache would have been no answer in that context to the conduct of the workers.

Shrijut Sengupta might have a headache or it might be that he was playing possum in order to snatch one or two hours' sleep. It is no use making vagrant speculation whether he was really indisposed or not, for, an enquiry in this regard would lead only to a blind alley. Since before going to take his rest he had told the care-taker Shrijut Das that he was feeling unwell, we may take a charitable view and find that there was something really wrong. It is true that he did not avail of the medical aid he could have at the hospital but it may be that Shrijut Sengupta felt that a short rest would restore him to normalcy.

There is another aspect of the matter which is unfavourable to the supervisor's case. When roused by Shri Modi Shri Sengupta had stated that he had over-slept. Obviously he meant that he had slept beyond the period of mid-day recess for lunch. If his intention was to have some rest within the limit of the lunch interval he might have requested Shri Das to wake him up in case he fell asleep and failed to get up on the expiry of the scheduled time. Since he did not do so the comment would not be unreasonable that he did not really intend to get up unless his presence was asked for by any of the fitters. In such an eventuality he cannot refute the charge of negligence.

Two other incidents have been relied on by the company, one was the defect in the water system which Shri Modi had asked him to look into. Shrijut Sengupta's evidence is that he had no knowledge or experience of the working of the pump. When he looked into it he found that there was no water in the pump. He was not competent to remedy the defect. He reported to the care-taker. The care-taker's duty was to send a report to the Electrical Engineer. Shrijut Chatterjee on behalf of the company argued that the supervisor should have made sure that the care-taker had sent information to proper quarters. The care-taker was expected to do his duty. It was a major defect which had held up essential operations in the factory. There was no reason for the supervisor to think that the supervisor would not carry out his duty. It might have been an extreme measure of caution if the supervisor had enquired of the care-taker later on if information had been given. Failure to do so does not strike me as a serious dereliction of duty.

The cleated belt of the Radio Department needed repairs. Shri Sengupta gave evidence that he was actually working on the repairs when he went for his lunch. Shrijut Modi's evidence is that he had asked Shri Sengupta if he had checked the repairs done to the cleated belt but received no reply. What actually happened was that wooden blocks were fitted which were not of the correct dimensions. There was trouble during working time the next day and production was affected to some extent and on the day following there was complete break-down at 2-30 p.m. The management held Shri Sengupta responsible for the repair being clumsily done which resulted in loss of production. Admittedly the wooden blocks were supplied from the company's carpentry. They were supposed to be of standard size. It also appears that there is a check at the time these are issued. The fitters used the blocks and the system was found working at that time. On the next day work was going on but with interruption. Shri Sengupta cannot be altogether exonerated as it was his duty to work the machine and see for himself if it was working smoothly. The maladjustment might have been noticed if he had paid careful attention. If Shri Modi's evidence is believed Shri Sengupta did not check up. Having regard however to the check by the carpentry and the fact that the fitters working with the blocks did not inform the supervisor that they were not fitting properly, the omission to be over-cautious should not be over-emphasized.

Two letters were received by Mr. Quentin, one in the month of January and another in the month of May (Exts. 9 and 9a). When Shri Sengupta's explanation Ext. 5 was received in which name of Mr. Quentin was wrongly spelt exactly in the same way as in the anonymous letters, suspension bred in the mind of the authorities that Shri Sengupta was the author of those two letters. Those letters were sent to a handwriting expert for examination who it is stated found the writing in Ext. 5 and in the envelopes in which the anonymous letters were posted to be in the writing of the same person. This to my mind is a very serious matter. In the anonymous letters highly objectionable remarks were made about Shri Modi. The management came to the conclusion that Shri Sengupta had written the anonymous letters. It is a possible view. On the assumption that the letters were written by him, the management has a good case for dispensing with the services of the employee who after the warning given in Ext. 10(c) had the hardi-hood to make charges casting grave reflections upon the management. The company can have no confidence in an employee who resorts to tactics of this nature. If in such a situation the company considers it necessary to dispense with his services, the Tribunal cannot say that the prayer is unreasonable. The case of the supervisor that he has been the target of attack because of his union activities has already been held to be without foundation. In an application under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act the Tribunal has to see if a prima facie case has been made out and whether the management is acted by any improper motive. As in the present case the management seems to have believed bona fide that this employee is a source of trouble and is past correction the Tribunal cannot withhold the permission prayed for. Permission is accordingly granted to dismiss Shri N. Sengupta.

One of the applications under section 33A relates to the order of suspension passed by the company pending permission of the Tribunal to terminate his services. Suspension in such circumstances has been held in numerous cases to be no punishment and hence no contravention of section 33. The latest decision on this point by the Supreme Court will be found reported in 1957, 1, L.L. J page 17. There is nothing to distinguish this case from the long chain of cases where this view has been propounded. I hold accordingly that the application under section 33A on the ground of suspension does not lie. It is accordingly rejected.

Another application relates to non-payment of advance bonus. The company has paid some bonus by way of advance to other employees but exception was made in the case of Shri Sengupta. He had no claim to receive bonus as of right. It is not a condition of service. Non-payment of the same is not an infringement of section 33. It may also be pointed out that an employee whose services are being dispensed with for misconduct and for causing loss to the company cannot lay claim to bonus. For these reasons this application under section 33A must fail and is hereby rejected.

No. 3671.R./D/3L-24/55.—2nd February 1957.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3562Dis./D/8L-24/55, dated the 11th August 1955, read with its corrigendum No. 4871Dis./D/8L-24/55, dated 6th October 1955, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Bangeswari Cotton Mills Ltd., Sukchar, 24-Parganas, and their workmen mentioned in schedule I thereto, regarding the matters specified in the schedule II thereto was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said First Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bangasri Cotton Mills Ltd., Sukchar, 24-Parganas, and their workmen as specified in schedule II. (Case No. VIII-252/55).

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order No. 3562Dis./D/8L-24/55, dated 11th August 1955, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Bangasri Cotton Mills Ltd., Sukchar, 24-Parganas, and their workmen mentioned in schedule I regarding the matters specified in the schedule II to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Schedule I

(1) Shri Suklal Saha, (2) Shri Motilal Saha, (3) Shri Sukumar Saha, (4) Shri Rasik Lal Saha, (5) Shri Surja Kumar Saha, (6) Shri Atul Chandra Saha, (7) Shri Bandehari Saha, (8) Shri Haripada Saha, (9) Shri Naren Gopal Saha, (10) Shri Gopal Chandra Saha and (11) Shri Ruidas Saha, all of Sodepur, 24-Parganas.

Schedule II

Have the workmen mentioned in schedule I above been retrenched? What compensation are they entitled to?

Notices were issued on both parties, who filed written statements setting forth their respective cases.

The workmen, in their written statement, state as follows:—

The Bangasri Cotton Mills Ltd. is one of the premier cotton textile concerns in the State of West Bengal with extensive mills situated at Sukchar in the district of 24-Parganas. There are more than 1,500 workers in the employment of the mills. The Management singled out the workmen mentioned in schedule I for discharging them from the company's service in retaliation for their efforts in improving the conditions of service of the workmen employed in the mills. The workmen mentioned in schedule I have been in the service of the mills for 1 to 10 years with good records of service. The details of the periods of their service and the wages received by them have been mentioned in the schedule attached to the written statement of the workers. The company with the ulterior motive of getting rid of the abovenamed workers mentioned in schedule I of the Order of Reference, discharged them on different dates within a period of about 2 months from 11th November 1954 to 20th December 1954. Termination of service of these workmen was made by the company without any notice, without assigning any reason whatsoever or without giving the workmen any scope for defence. After such illegal and improper termination of service of the workmen, the company appointed new workers to fill up their places in the factory. It is, therefore, stated by the 11 workmen mentioned in the schedule I to the Order of Reference that the termination of their services was unjustified and mala fide and in violation of the principles of natural justice and were instances of victimisation and unfair labour practice. The Tribunal should hold that the company was not justified in terminating the services of these workmen and the Tribunal should award to these workmen retrenchment compensation at the rate of 15 days' wages for each completed year of service under the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act, along with gratuity at the rate of one month's wages for each completed year of service, wages for the entire period of earned leave and Provident Fund dues.

The company, in its written statement, states as follows:—

The Order of Reference is not valid in law inasmuch as, the dispute raised by the 11 workers mentioned in schedule I to the Order of Reference is an individual dispute and not an industrial dispute. The employers admit that the said 11 workers were employed in their cotton mills and about 1,500 workers, more or less, were employed in the mills. The company deny having ever terminated the services of the aforesaid workers, as alleged, either by way of retrenchment or otherwise and submit that the workers one after another started all on a sudden absenting themselves from work without any previous application for leave or permission. The said workers, it is doubted, absented themselves from the company to take up employment elsewhere in the neighbourhood. On 3rd January 1955 the aforesaid workmen made a demand in a letter for arrears of wages, leave wages for 1954, gratuity and Provident Fund dues and for three months' wages for retrenchment, and the same demands were repeated in a representation dated 14th January 1955 and they never desired reinstatement. These workmen have never desired for reinstatement even before the Conciliation Officer, Barrackpore. In view of the termination of the services by the workers themselves of their own accord, the company denies that there is any occasion or necessity for observance of the principles of natural justice and that the company only accepted the resignation tendered by the workers and the plea of victimisation or unfair labour practice as made by the workmen is entirely unjustified. The employers deny any liability to pay any compensation or retrenchment relief or gratuity or statutory leave wages or Provident Fund dues, as prayed for and submit that advances were received by the workers from time to time, which being adjusted against their wages, a sum of Rs. 3-6-9 is due to the worker No. 2, Rs. 5 to worker No. 5, and nothing is due to any other worker in schedule I. On the other hand, a sum of Rs. 15 is due to the company by worker No. 1, Rs. 12 by worker No. 8, Rs. 16 by worker No. 11, as advance allowed to them but not realised and Rs. 7-3 by worker No. 4 after adjustment of advance. The wage due had been offered to the workers but were refused. The company denies the liability for payment of statutory leave wages for 1954 inasmuch as the workers will not be entitled to the leave in the following year under the Indian Factories Act and as they left the services of their own accord, they are not entitled to this leave. The Provident Fund dues, if any, are payable by the Regional Commissioner of Provident Fund, West Bengal, and not by the company. The company, therefore, prays that in the circumstances as mentioned above, the claims of the workmen should be dismissed with cost.

In view of the pleadings of the company, it is clear that the issue is raised as to whether the dispute referred to by the appropriate Government in the present order of reference was an individual dispute as opposed to an industrial dispute and if the Tribunal has the jurisdiction to entertain it. This issue will be considered.

The appearances for the parties were as follows:—

For the workmen: Shri H. L. Roy, Pleader.

For the company: Shri N. K. Mukherji, Advocate and Shri N. C. Das Gupta, Advocate.

The issues that arise for the decision of this case are as follows:—

Decisions

Issue No. 2.—The order of reference shows that the dispute is between Messrs. Bangasri Cotton Mills, Sukchar, and their workmen mentioned in schedule I regarding the matters specified in schedule II. The workmen mentioned in schedule I are 11 in number. The company raised the plea that the dispute between the company and the workers mentioned in schedule I amounts to an individual dispute and not an industrial dispute. It has been decided by the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the case of Central Provinces Transport Services Ltd. versus Raghunath Gopal Patwardhan that the preponderance of judicial opinion is clearly in favour of the view that a dispute between an employer and a single employee cannot per se be an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act, but it might become one if it is taken up by the union or a number of workmen. It is stated that notwithstanding that the language of section 2(k) is wide enough to cover a dispute between an employer and a single employee, the scheme of the Industrial Disputes Act does appear to contemplate that the machinery provided therein should be set in motion to settle only disputes which involve the rights of workmen as a class and that a dispute touching the individual rights of a workman was not intended to be subject of an adjudication under the Act when the same had not been taken up by the Union or a number of workmen. The opinion of the Hon'ble Calcutta High Court in Bilash Chandra Mitra vs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. [1953(1)L.L.J., 337] and of the Hon'ble Patna High Court in the case of New India Assurance Company, reported in 1954(II)L.L.J., 21, of the Hon'ble Madras High Court in the case of Lakshmi Talkies, Madras, reported in 1955(II)L.L.J., 477, were approved. Although the opinion of the Hon'ble Supreme Court on this point in the above case was obiter, still it is binding on all Courts and Tribunals [vide 1955(II)L.L.J., 541]. That being so, it is decided that the present dispute which was an individual dispute between the individual workmen mentioned in schedule I and the company, could not form an industrial dispute and could not be the subject matter of a reference, as it was made by the Government. This issue is accordingly answered in favour of the company. It is, therefore, awarded that the Tribunal is not competent to adjudicate on the order of reference as made by the Government.

Issue No. 1.—In view of the decisions of Issue No. 2, as made above, this issue cannot be adjudicated upon by the Tribunal. It is, therefore, awarded that the proceedings on the order of reference be struck off.

Feelings have risen high and tempers are badly frayed. It is a forlorn hope that adjudication of the matters in controversy by the Tribunal will inaugurate an era of peace and good will. Whatever the consequences, the Tribunal must perform its allotted task trying, to the limits of its power, to give a square deal to everybody concerned.

Briefly stated the case unfolded in the union written statement is that the company was doing big business having exclusive control of inland water transport in India and Pakistan. It commanded a large fleet of steamers, flats and barges employed in goods and passenger traffic navigating in the waters of West Bengal, Bihar, Assam and Eastern Pakistan. For repairing and overhauling the vessels, the company has several workshops, the main workshop being located at Rajabagan and known as the Rajabagan Dockyard. The present reference centres round this dockyard. The company, according to the union, is not in the habit of appreciating merit and efficiency in the workers. The sure passport to favourable consideration is abject surrender to autocratic treatment. An organisation named "I.G.N.R. Employees' Union" was brought into existence wet-nursed by the company and comprising members who were its yes-men. This union had no representative character and on all occasions fulfilled the wishes of the company under cover of a smoke screen as if they were independent decisions of the spokesmen of the workers. As under these cramping circumstances grievances of the workers found no redress they braced themselves to organise a union which would not be a satellite body or hanger-on to the management but would be the real custodian of the interests of the workers ready to fight to the last ditch against all reactionary forces. The Dock Engineering Mazdoor Sabha was thus ushered into existence. The workers of the rivet section of the Shipwright Department were the leading spirits in this adventure. As these men had raised the standard of revolt and forged a powerful instrument of resistance to the company's despotism, they were marked men against whom all its forces were mobilised. For three days running commencing from the 21st of July they were given very little work and on the fourth day a lock-out was declared on the pretext that these workmen of the Rivet Section were on sit-down strike. The lock-out was lifted on 1st August 1955. Wages for the whole period from the 21st July were withheld. The Mazdoor Sabha realised that the workers would have no peace or fair deal so long as the Employees' Union continued its artificial existence. To all intents and purposes that union had collapsed but the company still treated it as a living organisation competent to function as representative of the workers. The Sabha decided therefore to move the Government for declaration of the dissolution of that union which in its turn announced that it would hold its general election on 29th August 1955. All workers of the dockyard were at liberty to take part in the election. The Sabha mustered strong for the meeting but finding themselves in a hopeless minority the supporters of the employees' union led an attack on the supporters of the Sabha with deadly weapons. There was a free fight resulting in bloodshed. Police made several arrests and that provided the company a golden opportunity to place the leaders of the Sabha under suspension. The company circulated the canard that the membership of the Sabha was confined to a small proportion of the entire body of workers and having therefore no prospect of winning the election its supporters had broken up the meeting by rowdyism. To demonstrate the utter worthlessness of the company's analysis of the situation and convince the Government that nearly cent. per cent. of the workers owed allegiance to it, the Sabha served notice on the company of its intention to effectuate a token strike on 24th August 1955 for one hour from 4.06 p.m. The strike was gloriously successful. The workers without a single exception struck work according to programme. To undermine the significance of the full scale stoppage of work in concert the company invented the fiction that the work had stopped because the seven electricians had turned off electric switches cutting off the supply of power. The electricians were placed under suspension with effect from 25th August 1955. A perfunctory enquiry was held. Three of the men were cleared of the charge laid and the other four were held guilty. The Sabha claimed relief against the punishment awarded by refusal to pay wages and suspension and a host of other reliefs in regard to the existing service conditions.

The company traversed the allegations in the written statement filed by the Sabha. The case propounded on its behalf is that trouble was created unreasonably when Nirapada, a leading hand, was promoted to the post of an Overseer. Nirapada actually deserved promotion. But the Riveters, holders and heaters demanded reversal of the order of promotion. The company could not give way. On 21st July 1955 the riveters, holders and heaters started a sit-down strike which continued till 23rd July 1955. As the men were not amenable to reason a partial lock-out was declared with effect from 25th July 1955. The company made it clear at the same time that the lock-out would be lifted as soon as the men give an undertaking verbally that they would do their full share of work. The stalemate continued and in the meantime the workers presented new demands. The lock-out was lifted on 1st August 1955 on an undertaking being given as stipulated. Fresh demands began to pour in thereafter. Then on 20th August 1955 the adherents of the two rival sections of workers got involved in a riot. The police arrested a number of persons believed to be implicated. Following the rules in the standing orders the company suspended them. The dockyard was kept closed on police advice for a day. On 24th August 1955 an illegal token strike was launched by a section of the workmen. At that time some electricians in charge of the workshop and switch board attendants in some other departments cut off the supply of electric current without permission. Charges were framed against the men concerned and an enquiry was held. Four out of the seven charge-sheeted men were found guilty. They were placed under suspension pending permission of this Tribunal to dismiss them. The Sabha thereafter planned to precipitate another strike on and from 15th September 1955 but this reference being made before the appointed date the Sabha had to stay the strike. The company resists the demand for payment of wages withheld and the other demands made by the Sabha.

FINDING

Issue No. 14.—Are the Riveters, Holders and Rivet Heaters of the Shipwright Department entitled to any wages for the period from 21st July 1955 to 31st July 1955?

This is one of the issues over which the parties had fought a pitched battle. According to the Mazdoor Sabha, the company in its anxiety to preserve the prestige and influence of the tottering union (I.G.N.R. Employees' Union) rode rough shod over the elementary principles of justice and granted accelerated promotion to one Nirapada who was a protege of the said union. Neither by seniority nor by efficiency Nirapada merited the extraordinary favour shown to him in preference to others of the department who could give points to him. The workers felt aggrieved that to show unmerited favour to the employees' union, the company had ignored the just claims of other workers who had pulled loose from that organisation and formed a union of their own. Protests were lodged which were paid no heed to. Finding that the workers were not prepared to take this wrong lying down, the company designedly allotted very little work to a section of riveters on three consecutive days from 21st to 23rd of July. This was done designedly for the purpose of creating an occasion of some kind to launch an offensive against the agitators. The company's plea on the other hand is that a fuss was created over the promotion of Nirapada which was the result of mature consideration of his merits. There were some discussions and negotiations with representatives of the riveters over this topic but feelings were running high. On the 21st of July the Riveters were offered work but they remained idle. On the next two days also they observed sit-down strike. The 23rd of July was a Saturday. The authorities met the representatives of the Riveters and tried to persuade them to take a reasonable view but they were not amenable to reason. On Sunday the 24th a meeting was arranged between the representatives of the Riveters, Mr. Sweet, the Managing Director and Mr. Instance, the Dock Manager. The Labour Welfare Officer Shrijut Dutt was also present. The negotiations broke down as the demands of the Riveters rose higher and higher. Partial lock-out followed the break down of the negotiations. The point for decision now is whether the company had intentionally withheld work or the men had declined to go on working. On behalf of the union the learned Advocate Shrijut Sengupta conceded that there was no dearth of work. He also conceded that by the strategy adopted the company suffered some loss but he argued that the company was prepared to smart under self-inflicted wounds so that they might get a strangle hold on the workers and get good riddance of what was supposed to be bad rubbish. The financial loss was a mere flea-bite since the company was virtually minting money and conjuring up profits to an enormous extent. In view of this concession it is not necessary to make a searching investigation of the amount of work that was available during this period. A cursory glance at Ext. T (Tally Books) reveals the fact that on 21st, 22nd and 23rd of July the squads required for doing the day's work could not be formed Only a few squads could be formed which consisted of the pneumatic riveters who had not at that time thrown in their lot with the disgruntled section. The Steamer Salwin was to undock on the 21st July 1955 (vide Ext. T2). The work being held up, the vessel could not undock on the appointed day. Though in the estimation of the learned advocate the loss was a mere trifle I cannot take the same view. It is also difficult to believe that the company, for the advantage of putting the workers in the wrong, would wilfully suspend the work and incur losses which by any standards would not be of a negligible character. Exhibit 1 is the notice declaring lock-out with effect from 25th of July. The union addressed the letter Ext. 2 to the Labour Commissioner referring to this lock-out on the 25th of July 1955. If the company had in fact withheld work deliberately to serve ulterior ends the Mazdur Sabha would have been on the alert and immediately drawn the attention of the Labour Commissioner. But there is nothing to show that during the crucial period from the 21st to 23rd of July any communication was sent reporting the conduct of the management. The Managing Director on the other hand, had brought to the notice of the Labour Commissioner by the letter Ext. M5, dated the 22nd July, that about 400 men of the riveting group, viz., riveters, holders and heater boys had refused to work and staged a sit-down strike. It was further reported that the strike continued on the day the letter was written. O.P.W. 12 Mr. Instance, Dock Manager, gave evidence referring to the incident under review. The evidence of the witness was straightforward and it appears that he made no attempt to add any gloss. According to him information was received on the 21st morning at 8 a.m. that the riveters had refused to go to work. He approached the riveters and asked them to take up their duties. Finding that they were not in a mood to act according to his suggestion he asked them to sit down so that he could address them at length. He tried to drill a spot of common sense into their distracted mind but it was of no avail because they were intractable. On the next two days also events moved along the same track. Considering the facts that a lot of urgent work awaiting speedy execution was not done as squads were not formed and having regard to the evidence given with the utmost candour by Mr. Instance, I am fully satisfied that the company's version regarding the incidents from the 21st to 23rd of July, is true.

Riveters, rivet holders and heater boys were on strike on the days mentioned above. The strike was illegal as an appeal was pending before the Appellate Tribunal in which this company and the workers were concerned and also because this industry was declared to be a Public Utility Service by the Government under sub-section (vi) of clause (n) of section 2 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The strikers are not therefore entitled to any wages for the said period.

In view of the attitude of the men of the Riveting Section the company had to declare a lock-out. It was however made known that those who were willing to work would be admitted to the workshop. The workers did not resume as there was a condition attached that an undertaking must be given that they were willing to work. Since the case of the workers is that they did not go on strike but were forced to remain idle, the undertaking asked for would have amounted to an admission that they had declined to join their duties. The impasse was ultimately got over and the lock-out was lifted with effect from 1st of August. In view of the finding that the workers were on an illegal strike, the action of the company was correct. No pay for the lock-out period can therefore be allowed for the period of lock-out either.

Issue No. 17.—Whether the employees numbering 6, as per the attached list "B" who have been suspended by the company on charges of misconduct from 25th August 1955 under the existing Standing Orders, are entitled to resumption of normal work or any other relief?

According to the Mazdur Sabha the I.G.N.R. Employees' Union was defunct. It held no general meeting for two years. This is confirmed by the statements in Ext. 3. Admittedly its registration was cancelled. Fresh registration was obtained on the 25th of August 1955. The Mazdur Sabha got itself registered on the 15th of July. According to the spokesman of the workers the employees' union was not an independent body. It existed to echo the voice of the management and carry out its dictates. The interests of the workers were not the first consideration. The company was therefore at pains to devise ways and means to check the growth of the new organisation and rehabilitate the employees' union. Throughout the turbulent period the company wanted to uphold the authority of the employees' union and insisted on the workers treating it as the only representative body. In Ext. 1 while giving notice of lock-out the General Manager made it known that the workers would not be permitted to enter the dockyard until such time as "their accredited representative, through the recognised union, viz., I.G.N.R. Employees' Union, are able to reach an agreement with this company for the resumption of work". Exhibit 8(b) is a document regarding certain terms of agreement between the employees' union and the Superintendent of Workshops, acting on behalf of the Managing Agents. The document is dated the 3rd September 1952. It was affirmed in this document that the workers had stated that they have full faith in the union.

It had become necessary for the employees' union to advertise its representative character probably because a section of workers had shown signs of revolt. The company did not however recognise the newly organised union but persisted in boosting up the employees' union, which by all signs and portents had lost the confidence of a large section of workers. In giving notice that agreement must be reached through the recognised union, viz., I.G.N.R. Employees' Union, the company was going against the tidal current. In view of the fact that the Mazdoor Sabha was very much active and meetings were being held by it outside the dockyard gate, the conclusion can safely be drawn that the management was aware of its existence. O.P.W. 1, the Dockyard Labour and Welfare Officer, stated at page 18 of his recorded deposition that on the 22nd of July, one section of the workers held a meeting outside the gate. It was known to the management that they were under influence of some political party. On enquiry it was learnt that the Praja Socialist Party was supplying inspiration to them. While the recognised union was given permission to hold its meeting within the dockyard and facilities were granted by early closure of the factory, the other section made demonstration outside the factory gate. The management must have been alive that all was not well with the recognised union. There was another party making a strong bid for leadership. O.P.W. 1 further admitted that enquiries were made to ascertain whether the workers holding meetings outside the gate had organised any union. If enquiries were made the truth must have been known that a large section had broken loose from the old organisation and had rallied together to have a separate organisation of their own. With this knowledge the company had not an iota of justification for making it a condition for an agreement that the workers must use the employees' union as their mouth-piece. This attitude of the company fanned the flame.

The I.G.N.R. Employees' Union decided to convene a general meeting on 20th August 1955 in which elections were to be held. The Sabha made up its mind to attend the meeting and take part in the elections. On the appointed day the members of the Mazdur Sabha mustered strong wearing distinctive badges. Learned Counsel for the company commented upon the fact that identity discs were put on and submitted that they had come prepared to provoke a fight. The badges were worn to avoid their supporters attacking one another in course of the fight. It is not necessary for me to fix responsibility for the riot that had actually broken out at the meeting. The admitted fact is that the meeting could not take place because the rival parties resorted to violence resulting in bloodshed. The police brought the situation under control and made many arrests. The company declared a lock-out on 22nd August 1955 which was lifted on the next day. The men arrested were placed under suspension in conformity with the Standing Orders. During police investigation, according to the Mazdur Sabha, the company sought to convey the impression that the supporters of the Mazdur Sabha were in a minority and they had precipitated the fight as they had no hope of winning the election. To counteract this wrong impression the Mazdur Sabha resolved in a meeting held on the 23rd of August to go on strike for an hour on the 24th so that on complete suspension of business there would remain no scope for the plea that the majority of the workers were supporting the employees' union. The Sabha further resolved that workers engaged in essential services would be exempted from joining the strike. In pursuance of this resolution a strike was effectuated from about 4-5 p.m. to 5-6 p.m. on the 24th August on the plea that seven employees on duty on the switch boards had turned off the switches and had thus forced the workers to stop working, the company served charge-sheets on those seven workers. An enquiry was held by the Dockyard Labour and Welfare Officer.

Three of the charge-sheeted workers were found not guilty. The other four were found guilty. The company applied under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act for permission to dismiss them, but that application was not pursued in view of the issue now under consideration. In List B annexed to the Order of Reference, these persons have been named. From the written statement of the Mazdur Sabha it appears that the suspension order has been withdrawn so far as Abdul Gaffar and Abdul Rahaman are concerned. The case of the other four remains for consideration. The company's account of the day's incident is that these four men were on duty on the switch board. They turned off the switches and immobilised the machines worked by electric current. The workers were thus compelled to down their tools. The Sabha pleaded that the workers had, in spontaneous response to the call for a token strike, stopped working of their own accord. There is no truth in the allegation that switches being turned off working was rendered impossible.

Charge-sheets were served on all these persons and an enquiry was held by the Dockyard Labour and Welfare Officer who held several sittings and examined witnesses. The fact however remains that the witnesses were examined in the absence of the charge-sheeted persons and the persons charged were examined in the absence of the witnesses. It is true that a departmental enquiry is not conducted with the rigidity of a judicial trial but it is essential that the enquiry is conducted according to the rules of natural justice and nothing is done which is likely to cause prejudice to the worker concerned. In the case reported in 1954, L.A.C. page 307, their Lordships have pointed out at page 316 that—> "it is essential that the workman should be afforded opportunity to be present throughout at the enquiry, that is to say, all the evidence must be led in his presence or in the presence of his representative. He or another workman representing him must also be given the opportunity to cross-examine witnesses who depose at the enquiry in support of the charge".

Reference may also be made to a decision of his Lordship Sinha J., reported in 60 C.W.N. page 933. "Ordinarily" his Lordship pointed out—

> "there must be a personal hearing. If a person is entitled to show cause, he is entitled to a hearing, and if he is entitled to a hearing, he must have the opportunity of being personally heard, of calling his own evidence and cross-examining any witness called by the prosecution".

> "it is not permissible to examine witnesses in the absence of the delinquent or take ex parte statements and then ask the delinquent to cross-examine".

Judged by these tests the enquiry held by Shrijut Dutt was in contravention of the rules of natural justice. The charge-sheeted persons did not know which persons deposed against them and what statements they had made. There might be personal grudge or selfish motive inspiring the witnesses to depose maliciously in derogation of the truth. Cross-examination is an useful means to elicit the truth and expose falsehood. If confronted, the witnesses might be put through the ordeal of cross-examination. Having been denied this opportunity the charge-sheeted persons were seriously prejudiced. Reference was made to the decision of a Bench of the Appellate Tribunal, reported in 1952, L.A.C. page 490, that if there is evidence to support the action of the management the Tribunal will not substitute its own judgment for the judgment of the management. There should be no interference with the decision of the management if the decision of the management is a possible view. These are sound propositions no doubt, provided a fair enquiry has been held and the charge-sheeted persons got the opportunity to refute the charges. Since in the present instance the enquiry is vitiated by non-fulfilment of essential conditions, the decision reached by the Enquiring Officer carries no weight. The matter is open for the Tribunal to make an independent investigation of its own to get at the truth.

Before dealing with the charges against the four persons, I would like to refer briefly to the allegations that the action against these men was due to their close association with the Mazdur Sabha towards which the company cherished no friendly feelings. The authorities, according to the Sabha, could not reconcile themselves to the emergence of another union which had from its birth exhibited the tendency to challenge the propriety of some of the acts done in exercise of their powers of administration, e.g., upgrading and promotion. The facts already referred to lend countenance in some measure to the allegation of the Mazdur Sabha that the company was not pleased with the move for the creation of a rival organisation to represent the cause of the workers. It had done all in its power to make the workers acknowledge the authority of the employees' union to speak on their behalf. Even when it was known that the Mazdur Sabha regarded the other union as subservient to the management and there was no chance of the two groups working in collaboration, the company thought it fit to completely ignore it. Of the four persons whose case is now under investigation Abdul Aziz figures prominently as a leader of the Mazdur Sabha. He had presided over the meeting in which resolution was passed that a token strike would be held on the 24th of August. He had admittedly made over the strike notice to the Dockyard Labour and Welfare Officer. Abdul Aziz was in the night shift, and was drawing special allowances for working in that shift. The General Manager passed an order transferring him from night shift to general shift. This will appear from the evidence of O.P.W. 5 Mr. Oliver at page 38 of the recorded deposition. Mr. Oliver was the boss on the spot shouldering the responsibility for the department but he had no idea why the General Manager issued this order. On the 24th of August, he is alleged to have been placed on switch board duly along with one Mazibar Rahaman. Mr. Oliver admitted that on no other occasion two electricians were posted on duty at the same switch board at the same time. The order posting Mazibar Rahaman along with Abdul Aziz on switch board duty was also passed by General Manager and not by the Electrical Engineer. In answer to the Tribunal's question Mr. Oliver stated that though this was unusual it did not strike him as extraordinary. This does not make sense. Anything that is unusual is certainly extraordinary. These two instances of interference from the highest quarter in the case of Abdul Aziz without any adverse report from the Electrical Engineer shed a flood of light. He was not in the good books of the company. If it was deemed necessary to put a tail on him one can assume that he was not trusted. In that event he would not be put on switch board duty, the company being aware that a strike was threatened. O.P.W. 10 Mr. Moora deposed that he knew Abdul Aziz by reputation as a leader. He was in the fore-front on one occasion when trouble had ensued. Pieced togethed the evidence and circumstances referred to above lead to the conviction that Abdul Aziz had managed to get the lime-light turned upon him. The management knew him to be a stormy petrel. There is some amount of truth in the Sabha's allegation that the company, with a view to suppress the new organisation, wanted to strike down those people who supplied nourishment to it.

Abdul Aziz gave evidence that he was not on switch board duty on the 24th of August. His name does not appear in the duty roster annexure V to Ext. K. It was explained that no roster is maintained for men on general duty. Shift duty roster is prepared only for electricians in the power house and switch board attendants (vide evidence of O.P.W. 5 at pages 39 and 40). Evidence has been given that after turning off the switches Abdul Aziz went to the power house to deposit the key. O.P.W. 9 Shri Satya Charan Sen deposed that at 4-5 p.m. Abdul Aziz came to the power house to deposit the key of the switch board of the Machine Shop. The gate was closed as there were instructions to close it on the appearance of any trouble. A large number of people having assembled outside in front of the power house the door had been closed according to the instructions. Abdul Aziz halted at the gate and stated in reply to question put to him that he had brought the key of the switch board of the Machine Shop. The gate was opened to admit him. He came in and kept the key in the key box and then left.

The evidence of O.P.W. 4 who also works in the power house is that, because of Golmal seen outside, the gate was locked up and was not opened till 5 p.m. This evidence directly contradicts the evidence of O.P.W. 9 Shrijut Sen that the gate was opened to admit Abdul Aziz. Mazibar Rahaman is said to have been on duty on the switch board together with Abdul Aziz. He was exonerated. His ticket number appears in the shift duty roster but not that of Abdul Aziz. If both were on duty on the same switch board as alleged it is not intelligible why his number should not also appear. Mazibar Rahaman has given evidence for the company. His statement before Shrijut Dutt was that at two minutes past 4 p.m. Abdul Aziz had asked him to go out of the enclosure. As soon as he walked out Abdul Aziz started putting off the switches. He had protested that the whole blame would be laid on him. To this Abdul Aziz replied with some amount of heat that there was no reason why he should be blamed where so many men were involved. Abdul Aziz stated further that he was in-charge of the keys. Thereafter the enclosure was locked up and Abdul Aziz went away to deposit the key. The statement does not show that Abdul Aziz was on duty on the switch board. He was in-charge of the key of the enclosure. Anyway, the evidence of this person cannot be rated very high as he was an accused along with Abdul Aziz and his best endeavour was naturally to shift the responsibility on to the other man to keep his own nose clean. The evidence affecting Abdul Aziz is far from conclusive. The Tribunal cannot say with any amount of conviction that Abdul Aziz was in fact put on duty on the switch board along with another man.

The company had no witnesses to prove that the stoppage of work followed turning off of the switches. The evidence of O.P.W. 4 is that between 3-45 p.m. to 4 p.m. on the 24th August, a huge crowd had congregated in the yard under a tree. This amounts to an admission that the workers were drifting out deserting their work even before 4 p.m. Going back to the power house the witness found that the load of each individual meter was coming down gradually. The load came down completely according to him between 4-2 to 4-15 p.m. The workers had relaxed and slowed down the work which accounts for the load coming down gradually. From the enquiry report Ext. K it appears that Abdul Gaffar and Abdul Rahaman who were on duty in the welding department were found not guilty as they had taken previous permission from the Welding Engineer before putting off the switches. Abdul Gaffar obtained permission from his superior to turn off the switches as no one was at work. If that was the case in regard to Abdul Gaffar I fail to see why no reliance should be placed upon the evidence given by the Mazdoor Sabha that the workers having stopped work the men on duty on the switch boards turned off the switches. P.W. 2 Md. Ayub is one of the charge-sheeted persons. His evidence is that apprehending accident or unnecessary waste of electrical energy he had switched off the compressure switch only as he noticed that the load was coming down rapidly. P.W. 3 Madan Mohan Dhali stated that at 4-10 to 4-15 p.m. he found that the workers had stopped working and were creating hullah. There was no load in the meters. The people who were creating the row enquired of him why he was not turning off the switch. The switch was turned off thereafter to avoid wastage of energy. In cross-examination he stated that 10 or 15 persons work in the room, but on that occasion about 300 people had gathered. There was accordingly every chance of an accident. Saidul Rahaman, P.W. 5, had switched off the meter as according to him work had stopped and the men were getting out of their working clothes. They bade him stop the meter. For fear of accident he switched off. The company tried to make a point that they ought to have obtained permission of their superiors before turning off the switches. Mr. Oliver, Electrical Engineer, deposed that electricians can turn off the switches in the event of meters running hot or of a fuse blowing. In no other case, can the electricians turn off the switches when work is going on without permission from the Electrical Engineer. So no permission need be taken when work is not going on. As admittedly the load was going down, the proper inference is that workers had ceased working and that is the reason why the electricians turned off the switches. Failure to obtain permission if an offence at all, was due to misjudgment. In my view it was not misconduct for which the company can dispense with their services. Taking the worst view suspension for such a long period has been more than adequate punishment for the blunder committed in not obtaining permission for turning off the switches.

So far as Abdul Aziz is concerned, he had admittedly struck work. In fact he had taken the leading part in so far as he had presided over the meeting in which it was resolved that a token strike would be staged. The question now arises whether on account of participation in the strike for one hour Abdul Aziz is liable to be dismissed. It has been held in Punjab National Bank case reported in 1953, L.A.C. page 1, at page 16:

> "that a strike may be illegal on account of contravention of section 22 or 23 of the Act, though it may be perfectly justified or a strike though illegal by reason of those provisions may be the result of provocation on the part of the employer or such a strike may last for a very short time. Modern concepts of social justice would be outraged if in such cases the employer could dismiss a workman for his mere absence due to his participation in such a strike".

The strike in the present case was of very short duration towards the fag end of the day. In these circumstances it would not be in consonance with justice and fair play that this worker should be visited with the extreme punishment of dismissal. He has paid the penalty inasmuch as he has been under suspension since the event. That in my opinion is quite sufficient punishment for participation in the strike.

It may be mentioned that Mr. Oliver admitted at page 42 of his deposition that all the workers of the Electrical Department were credited with 7½ hours' work on that day. If all the men were refused wages for one hour that shows that the men had suspended work of their own accord and not under compulsion due to stoppage of the motors.

Learned Advocate for the union addressed an argument that though described as a token strike the cessation of work in this instance did not in sober fact amount to a strike. In his estimation mere absence or stoppage of work without presentation of some demands to be fulfilled cannot be designated a strike. This view is in conflict with the definition of strike in paragraph (q) of section 2 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Strike means cessation of work by a body of persons employed in any industry acting in combination or a concerted refusal, or a refusal under a common understanding of any number of persons who are or have been so employed to continue to work or to accept employment. The section as it stands does not require that the object must be to obtain satisfaction of a demand or fulfilment of any obligation. There may be a strike as a protest against a past action which is beyond redemption. For instance refusal of the employer to let the workers celebrate a pujah within the enclosure of the workshop may provoke the workers to call a strike. The day of the pujah being over no remedy with regard to that could be obtained. Still cessation of work in combination would be a strike. That is also the view expressed in the decision of their Lordships of the Supreme Court in the case reported in 1953, L.A.C. page 210. Their Lordships held—

> "that cessation of wrk by workers acting in combination or a concerted refusal by them to resume work is a strike as defined in section 2(q) of the Industrial Disputes Act, even if it is only for a few hours in a day".

There is hence no substance in the contention that cessation of work for an hour did not amount to a strike. Though there was an illegal strike, the persons under suspension cannot be dismissed. They must be allowed to resume their usual duties within seven days of the publication of the award.

Issue No. 1.—Promotion

In dealing with this issue relating to promotion we have to revert to the topic of Nirapada's meteoric rise in course of a few years. The Mazdur Sabha tried to prove that efficiency, skill and experience were not the passports to advancement and promotion. Supporters of the puppet union were given preferential treatment and men who had rendered meritorious service but did not side with the employees' union were superseded. In an earlier part of this award I have referred to the relationship between the employees' union and the company. I.G.N.R. Employees' Union had lost its vitality and was in a comatose condition having lost its registration. The pamphlet Ext. 3 confirmed the Sabha's case that no general meeting was held for two years. Even though the union was in a moribund condition the company left no stone unturned to revive its prestige and treat it as the only representative body capable of delivering the goods. On behalf of the company it was pointed out that the employees union had once agitated the question of bonus and no conciliation being possible reference was made to the First Industrial Tribunal. The award given was taken up in appeal by the union as will appear from Ext. N. It was also pointed out that the union entered into agreements with the company from time to time for the amelioration of the conditions of the workers. Ext. 8 series are the agreements referred to. There was an appeal in the bonus case no doubt but it does not appear that there was any hot contest between the union and the company. The agreements are more or less colourless. No permanent or far-reaching relief or advantage was secured through these agreements. On behalf of the Mazdur Sabha reference was made to the agreement Ext. G(4) entered into by the Mariners Union with the company. A weekly attendance bonus scheme was introduced. This bonus was dependent upon attendance for five full working days in a week exclusive of Saturday. In regard to dearness allowance the prevailing condition was that nine days' attendance in a fortnight would entitle the workers to full dearness allowance. By this agreement 8 days' attendance was substituted. The union argued that the employees' union modified the terms of this agreement by the agreements Exts. G(2) and G(3), and agreed to some unfavourable conditions. Six days' attendance in a week instead of five days was provided for. In regard to dearness allowance alterations were made prejudicial to the interests of the workers. It is not possible to say on the present showing that the employees' union was fighting whole-heartedly for the betterment of the service conditions of the employees. It was in a rather submissive mood. It is not unlikely that the company found the union a pliable instrument for the consummation of its policy and projects. There is same amount of truth in the Sabha's allegation that workers who were under the wings of the employees' union were shown preference in matters of promotion. Nirapada was promoted as a leading hand when Mr. Instance, O.P.W. 12, supported another candidate. He was recommended for promotion by the union. Mr. Instance had put up one Haroo. According to Mr. Instance a compromise was arrived at between the higher management, the employees' union and Mr. Instance himself and both were promoted. There was next a vacancy on the retirement of an overseer. The employees' union recommended Nirapada. No trade test was held. Mr. Instance had no time to make a choice of his own. He merely accepted the recommendation made by the union and in this way Nirapada was catapulted into overseership over the heads of many others. The Mazdur Sabha is smarting under the grievance that there are other leading hands to whom Nirapada is not fit to hold a candle but their claims have gone by default and a worker of inferior merit has been placed above them. The company has well defined rules for promotion. Ext. C is an extract from the rules. It is provided that when promotion is considered, the head of the department would carefully study the workers' service sheets and bear in mind the following factors before making his final recommendation to the General Manager :—

(1) Degree of skill—
  (a) Production—quality.
  (b) Production—quantity.
(2) Time-keeping.
(3) Loyalty.
(4) Behaviour.
(5) Co-operation.

Seniority should also be one of the conditions to be taken into account at the time of promotion. The system is all right but the Mazdur Sabha is aggrieved because in actual application of the rules departures are made to show favour to undeserving people. The learned counsel for the company advanced an argument that promotion is a management function in regard to which no outside agency, not even the Tribunal can interfere. It is an accepted view that promotion is a management function in the sense that it is a matter of internal administration where the employer has exclusive jurisdiction, to make its decision. The Tribunal has however supervisory jurisdiction and can certainly correct manifest errors or instances of flagrant injustice. In this case a lot of evidence was produced pushing to the forefront the claims of workers who deposed that they were kept chained to lower grades but were made to do the work of higher grades on their own pay. A large number of witnesses were examined on this point. They claim that they are doing arduous and difficult jobs but being in a lower grade they do not get the emoluments attached to the higher grade. The Tribunal was expected to make an analysis of the jobs and job evaluation and then deal with each individual claim for promotion. This is no job for the desk to be done with the help of the compass and divider. A time-study specialist is best suited to undertake job evaluation. In the present case the Tribunal is not in a position to make a valuation of the work that was being done by these persons who are dissatisfied on account of not being upgraded and to award that so and so should be placed in grade "A" and so and so in grade "B". The promotions given in 1955 may however be subjected to scrutiny. For this purpose I have decided to form a board, consisting of one nominee of the company, the Secretary of Mazdur Sabha and Shri S. R. Mukherjee, Assistant Labour Commissioner, who will be the Chairman. The company will be at liberty to replace its representative by fresh nomination from time to time so that the services of the head of the different departments or some other officer conversant with the work and the workers of the particular section may be availed of. This board will go through the cases and arrive at a decision whether promotion as given should be maintained or an adjustment should be made and other people whose case was not considered should be given promotion. Decision of the majority in case it is not unanimous will prevail and be binding upon the parties. The board will meet for transaction of the business as early as possible preferably within two months from the date of the publication of the award. The Chairman will fix the place and dates of meetings after consultation with the other members. If any member is absent without sufficient cause the Chairman may either adjourn the meeting or proceed in his absence. An extract of this part of the award be sent to Shri S. R. Mukherjee, Assistant Labour Commissioner (Statistics).

Issue No. 2.—Scales of pay and classification of employees

Classification of employees will also be a point to be dealt with by the Board formed in accordance with the direction given above. Regarding scales of pay I think I should give no decision of my own as a Major Engineering Tribunal has been constituted with Shri G. Palit as the Chairman in which this company has been added as a party. Question of scales of pay will be determined by that Tribunal. Anomalous results and various complications may arise if I frame a pay scale which may not be consistent with the scale that may be fixed by the Major Engineering Tribunal. A conflict will then arise which will be a source of trouble. In order to avoid that, the best course, as it appears to me, is to direct that the scales of pay will be as settled by the recently constituted Major Engineering Tribunal.

Issue No. 3.—Incentive bonus

This issue was not pressed. As there is no dispute at present regarding the incentive bonus scheme. No adjudication is called for.

Issue No. 4.—Canteen

There was a canteen which the employees failed to make use of because the accommodation was insufficient and the arrangements were such that before food could be supplied the lunch interval was over. The people had to stand in queue waiting for their turn to approach the service table but the line of waiting people used to be so long that the interval was over before they could have tiffin supplied to them. On behalf of the company it was submitted that the canteen was maintained in accordance with the provisions of the Factories Act. The Inspector of Factories did not find any draw-back. The workers were perversely avoiding taking advantage of the canteen. The staff was still maintained and the establishment may be restarted if the workers change their attitude the make use of the same. We have to take a realistic view of things. The canteen may not be offensive so far as the rules under the Factories Act are concerned but we have to see that it serves the purpose for which it was designed. Learned Advocate for the Mazdur Sabha pleaded earnestly for a tiffin allowance on the ground that the head office staff were being paid such allowance at the rate of 9 annas per head. He would much prefer to have an allowance in cash rather than reorganisation of the canteen. It appears to me that the workers were eager to have the money in cash but in their own interests preference should be given to the supply of food in the lunch interval. O.P.W. 1 deposed that as many as 30 benches were supplied to make sitting arrangement. Each bench can accommodate 30 men. I am not sure if a little bit of exaggeration has not crept in. Any way the company is directed to improve and enlarge the sitting arrangement so that the workers may go in larger numbers and occupy the seats just as the lunch hour is sounded. Sufficient number of waiters must be employed to serve tiffin to these men quickly. The workers must be given wholesome food at prices lower than the prevailing market rates. All arrangements must be completed and catering started within six weeks of publication of the award.

Issue No. 5.—Are the employees entitled to train fares for visiting their homes?

A reciprocal arrangement between this company and some railway companies had been in existence by virtue of which the employees of this company travelling through areas served by these railway companies were granted P.T.O's. The employees of the railway companies travelling by vessels owned by this company were given similar concession. The union made a grievance that all the workers did not get the benefit of this concession. That was unavoidable. Those workers who had no occasion to travel by those railways could not get passes. Whatever the position might have been before, it is now proved that the reciprocal arrangement has been annulled. The railway companies will not in future allow this concession. The company cannot be therefore directed to grant facilities as desired.

Issue No. 6.—Uniforms

According to the company durwans, peons and messenger boys may put on uniforms for purposes of identification. The Sabha's claim is for working clothes. Learned Counsel for the company submitted that the demand for working clothes is not in issue. I am not prepared to take such a narrow view of the issue. The word "uniform" has been used in the sense of working clothes. The Welders are provided with overall. The Sabha submitted that painters, boiler attendants welders, electro-platers, rivet holders and rivet heaters have to work under such conditions that their clothes are easily soiled and even ruined. They should have clothes supplied by the company because of the effect of paint, acid, etc., doing short work of their clothes. There is no evidence that other concerns carrying on similar undertakings supply working clothes to the workmen. When wages are fixed not only food but clothes, etc., are taken into account. The workers are expected to equip themselves for their particular job and arrange for clothes out of their wages. Exception may however be made in the case of those persons who have to work regularly close to the furnace. The duties of workmen doing their jobs in the heated atmosphere are of such a nature that they involve wear and tear and soiling of clothes beyond what is normal. They should each be provided with a short and half sleeve shirt every year.

The workers doing sand blasting job must be provided with one pair of shoes every year. Mr. Instance admitted that noxious gas injurious to health is generated in the hold of the ships if painting work is executed with red oxide. The only protective measure adopted is to employ relieving gangs at shorter intervals. The company is to seriously consider if gas-masks or some other contrivance can be brought into use. Beyond this I do not consider it necessary to allow working clothes to the others.

Issue No. 7.—Provision for supply of milk

Welders are supplied milk presumably because their work is supposed to be of an exhausting nature. The Mazdur Sabha submitted that there are others who are doing equally if not more arduous duties and there is no reason why they should not receive nourishment in the same way as the Welders. No evidence was produced that any other company supplies milk. I do not consider this claim justified.

Issue No. 8.—What should be the quantum of bonus for the years 1953, 1954 and 1955?

In the reference as made in the first instance one of the points for adjudication was in respect of annual bonus. After evidence was concluded and the stage of argument was reached an amendment of the original reference was made and the quantum of bonus for 1953, 1954 and 1955 was submitted for determination in place of the original issue.

On behalf of the company learned Counsel pressed an argument that a dispute arises on a claim being lodged which the other party refuses to satisfy. In this case there was no demand in the Sabha's charter of demands for profit-sharing bonus. Accordingly no dispute arose concerning profit-sharing bonus which can properly be a topic for the Tribunal's consideration by virtue of the amendment. Since the charter of demands presented by the Mazdur Sabha has not been placed on the table, this argument scores no point. We have to take up the amended issue for adjudication.

The company has supplied calculations in accordance with the Full Bench Formula and got them marked as Exts. W, W(1) and W(2). The Mazdur Sabha produced its own calculation at the time of argument but it is of no practical value inasmuch it was drawn up on a wrong basis. This Tribunal had on an earlier occasion to deal with the demand of the workers of this company and another company in which the question had been debated whether calculation should be made on the basis of the consolidated profits derived by the companies in their business of river transport in the different territories in India and Pakistan or on the basis of profits derived in West Bengal alone or in India. Their Lordships of the Appellate Tribunal came definitely to the finding that the union's contention that calculation should be made on the basis of the profits derived in India to the exclusion of Pakistan which is a foreign country was unacceptable. Their Lordships ruled that claim for bonus should be decided on the basis of the consolidated profits derived in their business of river transport in U.P., Bihar, West Bengal and Assam in India and East Bengal in Pakistan and not on profits derived in West Bengal alone or even in India (vide 1956, 2, L.L.J. page 378 at page 383). In view of this decision the calculation made by the Mazdur Sabha on the profits accruing to the business within the limits of India alone are not worthy of consideration. The charts supplied by the company are reproduced below :—

The balance-sheets for 1953 to 1955 have been marked Exts. V, V(1) and V(2). One of the points urged by the learned Advocate for the Mazdur Sabha was that admittedly heavy repairs were carried out in the Raja Bagan Dockyard. These heavy repairs are in his estimation, in the nature of replacements. The whole of the costs of such heavy repairs should be added back being in the nature of capital expenses. I cannot endorse this view because heavy repairs are not necessarily replacements unless there is improvement. Even thorough repair cannot rank as replacement. It was argued that according to the company's statement some of the vessels were found to be 100 years' old. They were past their normal longivity and were yet in serviceable condition. The only explanation is that they have been replaced. I do not think that this is the only possible inference. Life may have been prolonged by essential parts being carefully nursed and strengthened in good time so as to give them longer lease of life. In the chart Ext. W loss to the extent of £34,701 was deducted from the loss as per account on the ground that these were the accumulated loss of previous years. In Ext. W(1) profits of £87,492 was deducted from the profits as amounts applicable to previous years. According to the learned Advocate for the Mazdur Sabha, these profits cannot but be profits of the year 1953. The matter has been explained in the report of the Directors in the Balance-sheet Ext. V(1). It is stated that the profit for the year after providing for all revenue expenditure, but before provisions for depreciation, amounted to £51,814 to which was added the sum of £87,492 in respect of over provisions and adjustments relating to previous years. Lower down there is the further statement that the over provisions, etc., on account of previous years of £87,492 arose principally from a revision in the basis of the accounting for freight earnings with the railways and adjustment of charter with the River Steam Navigation Co., Ltd. The criticism levelled on behalf of the Mazdur Sabha accordingly fails to hit the mark. It was next argued that the reserves and amount standing in the depreciation fund must be taken for rehabilitation purposes. The depreciation fund is no doubt meant for purposes of rehabilitation. Liquid assets are also to be drawn upon for similar purpose. I fail however to see how the reserves which the company had, could be diverted from their allotted purposes for rehabilitation. Learned Advocate has not successfully challenged the soundness of the calculations made in the company's charts. There is another point which appears to me to be of paramount importance in this context. In the case of Burn & Co. vs. their Employees, reported in XI F.J.R. Part VII, page 217, their Lordships of the Supreme Court have made the following weighty pronouncement:—

> "As the reasons for granting of the bonus is that workers should share in the prosperity of the concern to which they have contributed, all of them have the right to participate in it. Therefore profits can be said to be sufficient to declare bonus if they are sufficient to make payment to all of them. If the profits are not sufficient to make payment to all workmen, it would not be proper to award bonus to only a section of the workmen who made a demand".

In that case the workers engaged in one factory had made the demand. The company owned nine other units in different places. There was no evidence as to the monthly salary payable to the employees and workmen in those units. In this case also there is not an iota of evidence as to the monthly salary payable to the employees in other factories and establishments of this company. Unless it is known how much would be required for distribution to the whole lot of workmen no decision can be formed whether the available surplus is adequate. As materials are not forthcoming on this vital particular we are not in a position to make any decision whether all workmen can be paid out of the profits made by the company. This is in my view a very cogent ground for holding that the claim for bonus for 1953 to 1955 is not sustainable.

Issue No. 9.—Dearness allowance for durwans

The reference to the Major Engineering Tribunal embraces the question of dearness allowance also. For reasons already stated the direction of this Tribunal is that dearness allowance will be the same as is awarded by the Major Engineering Tribunal recently set up.

Issue No. 10.—Leave for durwans

The durwans get no weekly rest, no festival holidays. They do not get any attendance bonus. Learned Advocate for the workers put in a strong plea that the durwans have to work beyond the routine hours but they get no overtime. The question of overtime allowance is not before this Tribunal and therefore the grievance, even if well-founded cannot be redressed by this award.

The durwans get 15 days' annual leave and 15 days' compensatory leave with full pay. They get one month's special leave without pay. The Sabha's demand is that they should get three months' annual leave with full pay. Generally speaking the durwans is a soft job requiring little muscular effort and brain work. He has of course to be on duty for longer hours than ordinary workers and gets no weekly rest or festival holidays. The leave that is provided under the existing rules though quite good might be better. It is awarded that the special leave due under the existing rules will be with full pay for 15 days and half pay for the remaining 15 days. The existing rules are altered to this extent only.

Issue No. 11.—Revision of the existing attendance bonus scheme including payment of dearness allowance

The attendance bonus scheme and provision for dearness allowance settled by agreement between the company and the Mariners' Union and reduced to writing in Ext. G(4), are more to the liking of the Mazdur Sabha than the modified scheme made on agreement with the employees' union as per Exts. G(2) and G(3). Under the old arrangement attendance for five full working days in a week exclusive of Saturday entitled the workers to attendance bonus. Under the agreement with the employees' union Ext. G(3) six days' attendance was required to qualify for the bonus. This is regarded by the Mazdur Sabha as a retrograde step. Full dearness allowance was available even on 8 days' attendance in a fortnight. By the next agreement an annual bonus scheme was introduced. Twenty-six days' basic pay was admissible if period of absence did not exceed 12 days in the year, 25 days' basic pay was due if period of absence did not exceed 13 days and so on. The Mazdur Sabha wanted annual attendance bonus to be tacked to the agreement under which weekly attendance bonus and dearness allowance were being drawn previously. That would give them the best of both the agreements shorn of the terms deemed unfavourable. In the alternative the learned advocate for the Sabha agreed to accept the terms prevailing since the introduction of the scheme under Ext. G(4). In some respect the later agreement is an improvement upon the earlier scheme but in other respect it is open to some objection, taking away as it did some of the advantages enjoyed by the workers previously. What was gained on the swings was lost on the roundabouts. Since the learned Advocate for the Sabha was prepared to revert to the scheme in operation on agreement with the Mariners' Union, it is expedient that an option should be given to the workers to choose which of the two schemes they would prefer. It may be that some of the workers would have greater liking for the revised scheme. It is hence awarded that the workers may choose which of the two schemes they would like to be governed by. Their option must be exercised in writing within a month of the publication of the Award. Prevailing conditions will remain operative in regard to workers who choose not to make any election.

Issue No. 12.—Representation of employees on the Board of Trustees of the Provident Fund

The Mazdur Sabha wants revision of the rules of the Provident Fund so that the contributors may have the opportunity of having the same number of representatives on the Board of Trustees as the company. It also desires the representatives to be elected and to remain in office for not more than three years. At an earlier stage of this case an objection was taken to the Sabha's prayer for making the trustees of the Provident Fund parties to this reference. Section 18 of the Industrial Disputes Act empowers the Tribunal to summon other parties who were not impleaded in the original reference. As a matter of fact trustees of the Provident Fund were made parties in the case reported in Industrial Court Reporter, 1956, June, page 647. The objection raised by the company and the trustees to their being made parties was accordingly overruled. A point was pressed that the prayer made by the Sabha regarding modification of the rules does not raise any industrial disputes. This point was considered in a case by the Appellate Tribunal reported in the Bihar Gazette, dated the 24th December 1955, at page 3941. The amendment of the Provident Fund Rules pressed for in that case related to equal representation of the employees with the nominees of the employers on the Board of Trustees, provision for payment of the benefit due to workmen in the event of death, and for increment of the contribution on both sides. The learned Tribunal held inter alia that this was not an industrial dispute. To attract the operation of the Industrial Disputes Act, the dispute must be between employers and employers, or employers and workmen, or between workmen and workmen and it must be connected with the employment or non-employment or terms of employment or conditions of labour of any person. The trustees are not employers of these workmen. The dispute of difference raised in this issue is not between the employers and the workmen. Secondly, the modification sought for, is not in regard to the terms of employment or the conditions of labour. Lastly, the Provident Fund Rules cannot be altered by this Tribunal. It may also be added that in the absence of the entire body of contributors to the fund no alteration of the rules can be worked out.

Issues 13, 15 and 16

These three issues were not pressed. It is a fair assumption that the disputes have been allayed. No adjudication is hence required so far as these issues are concerned.

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act by Shri Ranjit Singh who was employed as a permanent durwan in the opposite party Company. He alleged that during the pendency of adjudication proceedings in respect of an industrial dispute between the opposite party Company and their workmen before this Tribunal, he was dismissed without permission for having refused to perform the duties of a cooly and sweeper, and thus the opppsite party Company contarvened the provisions of section 33 of the Act.

The opposite party denied the allegations and pleaded that the petitioner was asked to come at the store gate to keep a watch upon the despatches of stocks, which he refused and thereafter the petitioner did not turn up for work on and from 29th February 1956.

Decision

On 19th January 1957 when the case was fixed up for hearing, the parties filed a joint petition of compromise and prayed for an award in terms thereof. ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Howrah Light Casting Co., Ltd., 74 Benares Road, Howrah and their workmen represented by Howrah Small Factories Workers' Union, 1 Rajaram Das Lane, Howrah (Case No. VIII-115 of 1956).

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the company: Shri N. K. Mookerjee, Advocate.

For the union: Shri D. L. Sengupta, Advocate, assisted by M. M. Saha, Advocate.

By order No. 1873Dis./D/10L-4/56, dated Calcutta, the 7th May 1956, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred for adjudication the following issues arising out of disputes between Messrs. Howrah Light Casting Co., Ltd., and their workmen.

Issues

(1) Pay and Dearness Allowance, (2) Leave, (3) Service Books and Leave Books, (4) Retirement Benefit, (5) Bonus for the year 1361 B.S. payable in 1362 B.S. during pujas.

The union representing the workmen filed written statement making out the case that the company had consolidated itself on firm footing and was making good innings but was close-fisted in paying wages to the workers. No leave of any kind was also granted to the employees. To regularise the service conditions and provide other reliefs the union took up their cause. Amongst the claims made there is one for bonus for the year 1361 B.S. payable in 1362 B.S.

The company in its reply traversed the allegations made in the written statement of the union and maintained that the wages paid compared favourable with current wages in similar industries in the locality. The company had started its career only a few years back and had suffered loss year after year. The financial condition was such that no further strain could, at this stage, be borne without serious damage to the industry.

Issue No. 1.—Pay and Dearness Allowance

The First Major Engineering Tribunal had to fix minimum wages for semi-skilled and unskilled workers and the clerical staff. The basic minimum pay for semi-skilled workers was fixed at Rs. 35 and that of unskilled workers at Rs. 30. The basic minimum wage for non-matriculate clerks was fixed at Rs. 55 and that of matriculates at Rs. 60. For the clerical staff annual increment at Rs. 2-8-0 was awarded by the Major Engineering Tribunal. From the statement Ext. A it appears that the clerical staff are in a better position in this company. It would not be proper therefore to disturb the prevailing rate of pay so far as the clerical staff is concerned. It may be added that the clerks employed by this company are all non-matriculates.

Parties are agreed that so far as basic wages are concerned financial capacity of the company is neither here nor there. In fixing minimum wage, the Tribunal must provide not merely for bare sustenance of life but for the preservation of efficiency as well. For this purpose the wages must be such that some measure of education, medical relief, and essential amenities are easily attainable. In casting this scheme the Tribunal is not concerned with the financial stability or capacity of the industry. In this case parties have agreed that the minimum basic pay fixed by the Engineering Tribunal may be introduced under the imprimatur of an award. It is hence awarded that the basic wages of semi-skilled workers would be Rs. 35 per month or Rs. 1-5-6 per day. Similarly, the basic minimum pay of unskilled workers would be Rs. 30 per month or Rs. 1-2-6 per day. The skilled workers are handsomely renumerated. No direction by the Tribunal is necessary.

Dearness allowance is not paid separately but is consolidated with the wages. The company pleaded inability to pay more than what workers are receiving under the present set-up. Under the Second Major Engineering Tribunal dearness allowance was fixed at Rs. 31 up to a pay range of Rs. 50. From Rs. 51 to Rs. 100 it was settled at Rs. 42, from Rs. 101 to 150 at

Rs. 48, from 151 to Rs. 200 at Rs. 54 and from Rs. 201 upwards at Rs. 60 per month. In settling minimum basic pay and dearness allowance the Major Engineering Tribunal took special care so that the weakest unit in the galaxy of Engineering Firms, big and small, might not be saddled with financial obligations too heavy for it to bear. The scales fixed were within the means of the weakest of the companies. The union has put in evidence an agreement reached between Messrs. Bamangachi Machinery Industries and the workers (Ext. 1a). The Bamangachi Machinery Industries happen to be an industry even smaller than the Howrah Light Casting Company. That company agreed to pay Rs. 31 as dearness allowance in accordance with the Tribunal award. Before this Tribunal the company has shown that it had incurred losses for several years and only in 1361 B.S. it collected a profit of Rs. 7,184-5-6. Income-tax assessment orders, Ext. E (series), bear testimony to its hard struggle for existence. Learned Advocate for the company, arguing on the issue of dearness allowance, submitted that capacity to pay the same at a higher rate must be considered with the utmost care. Unquestionably safety of the industry is of capital importance. Nothing should be done to hust or hinder it.

I have already referred to the agreement between Messrs. Bamangachi Machinery Industries and the workers. Another agreement Ext. I was recorded between Messrs. Dhang & Co. and its workers conceding pay, etc., at a liberal scale. The number of men employed by Messrs. Dhang & Co. is only 34. Reference may also be made to an award made by Shri M. N. Gan on a dispute between another similar industry in Howrah [Casting Corporation (India), Ltd.] and the workmen published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 17th March 1955, at page 1177. That industry is smaller than the Howrah Light Casting Co. and had only 50 workers in its employ at the date of the reference. Loss had been sustained year after year and at one time it had to close down production for some months. Giving full consideration to its disabilities and set-backs the Tribunal fixed minimum wages at Rs. 61. In other words, dearness allowance was awarded at Rs. 31 per month. This decision was approved of and confirmed by the Appellate Tribunal in appeal No. Cal.-105/55. The Howrah Light Casting Co., Ltd., is better off than the Casting Corporation (India), Ltd. Following where a State Tribunal and the Appellate Tribunal have blazed the train, I award that minimum dearness allowance for unskilled and semi-skilled workers would be Rs. 31 per month. In individual cases where dearness allowance may actually be higher than the scale I have just laid down, the existing scale will not be reduced. The union pressed for retrospective effect from the date of the reference. As the industry has not yet found its level and is struggling to establish itself on solid foundations no handicap should be imposed by involving it in additional expenses for past years. The wages and dearness allowance as awarded will be operative from January 1957.

Issue No. 2.—Leave

Statutory leave admissible under the Indian Factories Act will no doubt be enjoyed by the workers. They will also get casual leave for seven days with pay. Sick leave has been provided for by the State Insurance Act. Hence no direction regarding sick leave ought to be given. They will have 8 festival holidays.

Clerical staff will get privilege leave on full pay for 21 days. The privilege leave will accumulate up to a limit of 63 days. They will have 7 days' casual leave with full pay in a year. They will get the same festival holidays as the workers.

Issue No. 3.—Service Books and Leave Books

The company maintains leave register. They are also preparing leave cards to be issued to each individual worker. The leave cards must be made ready and supplied to the workers within six weeks of publication of this award.

Issue No. 4.—Retirement Benefit

Provident Fund has been introduced by the company from 1952 on the passing of the Employees' Provident Fund Act. The union pressed for gratuity in addition to the retirement benefit available under the Provident Fund Act. As the company is still in its infancy the provision already made is found sufficient. I turn down the prayer for gratuity.

Issue No. 5.—Bonus for the year 1361 B.S. payable in 1362 B.S. during Pujas.

The President of the union deposing on behalf of the workers stated that bonus was claimed as a condition of service or as a grant to meet Puja expenses. The claim was not for profit-sharing bonus. Other companies in the neighbourhood are said to have been paying such bonus. The company never paid bonus at Puja time. No inference of an implied agreement can be drawn. The claim based on payment by other companies cannot stand since there is no obligation upon the company to follow the example of other companies. The profits earned in 1361 B.S. were not considerable. Even if the claim was for profit-sharing bonus it would not be sustainable if interest on capital and other prior charges were deducted. This claim is untenable from whatever angle the position may be examined. I find accordingly that no bonus is payable to the workers for the year in question.
